DEMO CATTLE AID TOLD

—COURT ACTION PLANNED—

Protest Car Loss, Rates

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Nebraska grain storage men are protesting to congressmen and plan court action on two matters which they say can seriously affect the grain storage industry and also possibly cattle feeding operations in the state.

Particular attention is called to:

1. A shortage of boxcars for moving grain in Nebraska.
2. A proposed preferential rail rate for moving grain to shippers who have purchased special equipment for shipments from origins in Nebraska to Denver.

Governor Ready

Governor Frank Morrison's administrative assistant, Gene Budig, said Thursday that the governor's office stands ready to work for a solution to problems facing the grain industry.

"We have invited interested grain industry leaders to submit proposals to the Governor's office and following the study of such proposals the Governor will invite all interested parties to meet and discuss the situation," said Budig.

The inadequate boxcar supply that grainmen claim reduced the Burlington Railroads performance to a 39.9% efficiency from May 1 to September 17, 1964, has caused Commodity Credit Corporation, the grain industry's biggest customer, to deliberately by-pass Nebraska terminal points in preference for Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri terminals which are located on railroads that can furnish the necessary equipment and service to aid CCC in delivery for export, according to Nebraska grain industry spokesmen.

Orders Issued

During the past two months CCC has issued loading orders to country elevators in Nebraska for about 19 million bushels for reconcentration in the terminal elevators; of this amount only one million bushels is coming to Lincoln while the bulk is going to neighboring state terminals with better rail service to aid CCC in making sales of grain, claim Lincoln area grainmen.

In past years most of this grain has come to Nebraska terminal elevators.

Nebraska congressmen are being advised that the resulting effect is serious to the entire grain storage industry in Nebraska and that unless relief is soon in order for the industry it cannot long survive under these conditions. One terminal has suffered a $500,000 loss as a result of the shortage, they were told.

"Every bushel of grain that Nebraska elevators fail to handle means a tax loss to the state of Nebraska in addition to the labor, transportation and cash flow that is created by the state's estimated 500 million bushel grain storage," says Howard Elms, secretary of the Nebraska Grain and Feed Dealers Assn.

Reduced Rates

The second recent threat to Nebraska grain storage men came in the form of an application proposing reduced rates on feeding grains from Nebraska origins to Denver.

Grainmen say it will not only hurt their industry but could transpose traditional livestock feeding patterns to a situation where the cornbelt feeder, long close to feed supplies, would be confronted by western feeders with favorable freight rates able to supply markets now enjoyed by the midwest.

The new freight rates on feed grains going from Nebraska to Denver would reduce the present rate of 40 cents per hundredweight to 19 cents for shippers, subject to a minimum weight of 180,000 pounds per car and a minimum weight of 450 tons per shipment, with shipper furnishing equipment.

Gordon E. Ganka, director of transportation of Lincoln Grain, Inc., testified before a Western Trunk Line Committee hearing in Chicago that the rate proposal was unjust and unreasonable for the proponent rail carrier to select the type of shipper to qualify for reduced rates via his railroad.

Grain trade spokesmen point out that the weight requirements in the proposal would eliminate shipment from a number of country elevator points on branch railroad lines and that it would favor a few giants in the industry who have made extensive purchase of equipment to move grain from traditional feeding areas of Nebraska to other points.

"If you think the import beef situation was dangerous to the Nebraska feeder you had better take a second look at this proposal which would open the door to dislocate established industry and pattern of grain flow," said Robert J. Scheve, manager, grain department, Equity Union Grain Co. of Lincoln.

Will File

The latest action on the proposal is a promise from Ganka that midwest grain interests will file an Investigation and Suspension proceeding against the proposed rate changes which the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Co. and the Union Pacific Railroad Co. have sought to establish.

"To have a carrier give consideration to a very small segment of the grain industry and request publication of destructive rates that will jeopardize interior elevators and markets is only asking for unsurmountable problems at a later date.

"The corn and milo markets in Nebraska will be confined only to qualified shippers of grain who own their own equipment, and we feel certain if this rate becomes a reality the next proposal to be suggested will be volume rates from Denver to the West Coast. The combined effect of the rates to Denver, plus the rate factor beyond, could defeat any through rate to the west coast in effect today," said Ganka in his appearance before the Western Truck Line Committee.

One of the solutions to the boxcar problem offered by grainmen is that the Interstate Commerce Commission order carriers in Eastern and Southern territory to return western equipment to this area and to assess a fine to carriers who do not comply with the order.

Savage Hilda Aims Punch At Gulf Coast

New Orleans (AP)—Hurricane Hilda aimed its terrifying 150-mile-an-hour winds at the Texas and Louisiana Gulf Coasts Thursday night, sending several thousand refugees into highland shelters.

Hurricane warnings were hoisted from the mouth of the Mississippi River to the Texas border as the season's most powerful storm tried to make up her mind where to hit land. Hilda swirled through the Gulf of Mexico at six miles an hour—some 300 miles to the south.

She was wallowing in the gulf on the 71st anniversary of the most destructive hurricane ever to hit this area. Records show 1,000-2,000 persons died in a hurricane that struck the Gulf Coast Oct. 1-2, 1893.

Train Kills Young Man

A 23-year-old Lincoln man apparently took his life Thursday afternoon by placing himself beneath the wheels of a Burlington train, police said.

Police reported, Ben Czaplewski, a patient at the State Hospital, apparently knelt beside a slow-moving westbound train and placed himself on the tracks after the engine had passed him.

The incident occurred east of the Park Blvd. crossing at about 4:30 p.m.

Police said Czaplewski was on a ground pass from the State Hospital.

Court Order Halts Strike Of Dockers

New York (AP) — The federal government moved with swift precision Thursday night, obtaining a Taft-Hartley court order halting the brief Atlantic and Gulf Coast strike of 60,000 longshoremen.

Less than 24 hours after the midnight, preliminaries under the Taft-Hartley law were disposed of and Federal District Judge Frederick Bryan ordered the dockers back to work.

A spokesman for the striking AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association said:

"Whatever the courts tell us to do we'll do. We're not striking against the government, we're striking against the companies."

Return To Piers

A return to piers from Maine to Texas was expected to get under way Friday, as soon as ILA work gangs could be given the required advance notice to report for duty. The strike was so brief that little or no cargo had a chance to pile up.

It was the sixth time since the Taft-Hartley law was enacted in 1947 that it has been used against the ILA in its contract battles with the New York Shipping Association. Job security is the main issue in the current deadlock.

Bryan's restraining order is good for 10 days. Meanwhile, the Justice Department will have an opportunity Oct. 8 to seek a temporary injunction, stipulating an 80-day cooling-off period in the waterfront dispute over automation.

President Johnson, for the first time since he entered the White House, invoked the Taft-Hartley law Wednesday night, but too late to head off the strike, which began with the midnight expiration of the ILA's old labor contract.

However, making up for lost time, a three-man presidential board of inquiry took only a matter of hours during the day to confer with ILA and shipping association officials.

Imperil Nation

Then the board, headed by Herbert Schmertz, advised Johnson that a continuation of the strike would "imperil the national health and safety."

That cleared the way for Justice Department attorneys to go before Judge Bryan to seek the restraining order.

Halt Tie-Up

A cooling-off period would halt the costly tie-up until after the presidential election Nov. 3. The men could strike again after the 80 days if no settlement is reached.

The walkout, involving several hundred ships along the East and Gulf coasts, began officially at 12:01 a.m. Thurs- had left the docks Wednesday.

Job security in the face of automation was the major issue. Wages also are at issue.

The basic wage for longshoremen is $3.26 an hour in New York and a few cents lower in most other ports. Contracts reached in New York usually set the pattern along the coasts.

The shipping association, headed by Alexander P. Chopin, accepted and the union rejected a settlement proposal sumitted Wednesday by a presidential mediation panel.

ISSUES—1964

Amendments which would extend the terms of four state officials, provide for separate classification of some motor vehicles and exempt from taxation the homes of paraplegic veterans will be submitted to Nebraska voters Nov. 3. For Betty Person's story explaining the details of these proposed constitutional changes see Page 5.

ORPHAN TRIPLETS GO TO COLLEGE

The odds are pretty high on triplets ever reaching college together — even greater when they are orphans. Nevertheless, Teddie, Freddie and Eddie Duke, left to right, are enrolled as freshmen at Abilene (Tex.) Christian College. The 19-year-old brothers earned college expense money during the summer by working for the Dallas Sanitation Department. Originally from California, the three boys attended Medina (Tex.) Home, a church-supported orphanage.

'McCloskey Wanted Million More But Got Turned Down'

Washington (AP)—A city official testified Thursday that Matthew McCloskey, Philadelphia contractor and Democratic fund-raiser wanted almost $1 million extra for speeding up work on the District of Columbia Stadium.

But James A. Blaser, director of buildings and grounds for the district government, said he turned him down and the matter still is being argued.

Blaser was the first witness called at the reopening of Senate Rules Committee hearings into the financial dealings of Bobby Baker, former Senate Democratic aide.

Kickback Charge

The Senate ordered the hearings started up again after Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., charged that McCloskey paid a $35,000 kickback in connection with the stadium contract and that $25,000 of this political payoff, as Williams termed it, went to Baker for use in the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund.

J. A. Mollison, vice president of one of the engineering firms that designed the 50,000-seat stadium, testified he never heard of any political influence being brought in connection with the project.

Committee Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., who has denied Republican charges of whitewashing the Baker probe, brought out that a Republican president, Dwight D. Eisenhower, occupied the White House at the time the stadium contract was signed in July 1960.

Fund Raiser

McCloskey is a former chairman of the Democratic Finance Committee. The late President John F. Kennedy named him ambassador to Ireland, a post he recently relinquished to resume his Democratic fund-raising efforts.

Blaser testified McCloskey's firm won the stadium contract with a low bid of $14,247,187.50. Next lowest among the 10 bids submitted, Blaser said, was a $14,491,937.50 proposal by John McShain, Inc., also of Philadelphia.

Before the job was finished, Blaser said, changes in the plans and specifications brought the total price up to $17,266,015.50.

Committee counsel L. P. McLendon asked Blaser if he had "any reason to believe there was any collusion anywhere that resulted in McCloskey receiving more than he was entitled to for a change order."

"No, sir," Blaser said.

Disputes Idea

Blaser also disputed any suggestion that "McCloskey could have filed a low bid knowing he could make up any loss on the contract by getting approval of a large number of change orders."

Beatrice Gets 2nd New Fertilizer Unit

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Beatrice—The second multi-million dollar fertilizer industry within six months has announced plans to locate here, initially employing 100 persons and already hinting at future expansion.

Gov. Frank Morrison sprang the surprise jointly with key officials of Cominco Products Inc. at a late Thursday afternoon press conference. Also sharing in the announcement was Mayor W. W. Cook Sr.

Estimated as a $20,000,000 facility, the grandular ammonium nitrate and nitrogen solutions plant will start construction immediately on a 140-acre site adjacent to the factory being built by Phillips Petroleum Company. Phillip's $8 million anhydrous ammonia operation will supply ammonia to the second newcomer.

Debut

President F. E. Burnet and Bob Inkpen, manager of Cominco's chemical and fertilizer division, noted that this marks the corporation's production debut in the U.S. Headquartering in Montreal with four Canadian plants, the company has been distributing nearly 500,000 tons of Elephant brand fertilizer annually through its Spokane, Wash., central office.

The Beatrice complex anticipates producing 200,000 tons per year, about two-thirds of this dry farm fertilizer and the rest liquid. Approximately half of Phillips' production will be utilized by Cominco, although Inkpen explained that the two firms "chose the same location independently."

"We made our own market analysis and would have located someplace in the vicinity regardless," the official explained. "We sold in Nebraska and Iowa since the 1930s, so this is a central service market"

Moving

Congratulating Beatrice, Gov. Morrison described it as "a city with a great heritage that is moving forward." The industry will make a substantial contribution to the state's economy, he continued, and seems "sure to be expanded in the years ahead."

Nearly two dozen businessmen backgrounded Mayor Cook and Chamber of Commerce President Stanley Woita as they interpreted the announcement as "proof the city is certainly on the move." Among those present were Jim Monroe of the Nebraska Resources Division and Bud Pentz, president of the Beatrice Industrial Development Corporation.

"This may be marked as the year the chemical industry discovered Nebraska," stated Monroe. Although his state agency had worked for several months with Cominco, the announcement caught most Beatrice residents by complete surprise.

Other Things

Cook noted that "there are also some other things in the making." The Phillips-Cominco location five miles northwest of town is considered feasible for several other industries.

Scheduled for completion in late 1965, the Cominco complex will include a nitrate acid plant, ammonium nitrate plant, both solid and liquid storage, and bagging facilities. Also to be manufactured are aqua and anhydrous ammonia.

The governor also lauded Cominco as "a corporation of great vision" for already arranging a research grant with the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture. This prompted a response from Burnet that "admittedly I didn't know much about Nebraska before. It seems you do have a story to tell."

Hubert Outlines Resources Plan

. . . 'FED CATTLE PRICE UP'

Enroute with Humphrey (UPI)—Democratic vice presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey announced Thursday a seven-point administration program to help the domestic cattle industry.

Humphrey spoke to a chilled audience in Glasgow, a town of 9,000 in Montana's cattle country. A crowd estimated at 2,000 went to the wind-swept northeastern Montana fair grounds for his address.

He listed these points to help the cattle industry which recently has been plagued by falling beef prices:

—Cooperate with the livestock industry and make available advances in research, marketing and methods to bring about fair competition.

Conservation

—A conservation program to preserve grazing lands.

—Government aid to cattlemen in need of credit.

—No direct price support for cattle producers but federal help in finding them good markets.

—Encourage beef promotion including federal purchases for school lunches, needy persons and the armed forces and aid in beef exports.

—Government help in opening European and Japanese markets for U.S. beef.

—Use by the President, if necessary, of the beef import bill passed by Congress this year.

Help Out Of Slump

Humphrey credited the administration with already helping to pull the cattle industry out of its slump. He said the market price for fed cattle in the Midwest has risen $6 a hundredweight since May. He also said exports of U.S. livestock were increasing and other nations have reduced their shipments of meat to this country.

Earlier, Humphrey addressed the Western States Power and Water Consumers Conference in Bismarck, N.D., where he accused Republican presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater of advocating "retreat and reaction" in resources development.

"We repudiate the Goldwaterite program of retreat and reaction in the development of these essential resources.

"The leader of the Goldwater faction has proposed to sell the TVA 'even if we could only get a dollar for it.'

Billions For Arizona

"The senator would like to have the billion-dollar Central Arizona Project in his own state but his program for the rest of the country adds up to exactly nothing."

Humphrey said the eight-point Johnson-Humphrey water and power development program would:

—Give firm federal leadership to the comprehensive development of water resources.

—Implement the letter and spirit of the long standing preference clause in marketing federal power.

—Promote and encourage the use of advanced technology in the nation's power industry.

—Aid and advance the cause of rural electrification.

Atomic Energy

—Advance research and development to give America a healthy atomic energy industry.

—Continue to expand efforts in the desalting of water, including research on the use of nuclear power for desalinization.

—Encourage the development of lignite coal fields of the West.

'—'Follow the advice of Teddy Roosevelt, who told us long ago to use every drop of water for the benefit of man, as it travels from the mountains to the sea."

Republicans Revive Campaign Caravan

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Hastings—The revived Republican Campaign Caravan launched a twelve day statewide tour here Thursday.

An overflow crowd attended the opening luncheon before the campaigners moved on to Minden and Holdrege. They stopped overnight at McCook.

Warm 80-degree weather greeted the opening of the tour. The caravan technique was last used by the Republicans in 1958.

GOP gubernatorial nominee Dwight Burney charged that "the chair in the governor's office is empty more than it is filled."

The governor "should be there tending to business," Burney declared.

Sen. Roman Hruska said the presidential campaign should turn to a discussion of the record of the Johnson administration, instead of focusing on an anti-Goldwater theme.

Among issues which should be discussed, he said, are the farm problem, federal spending, public morality, trade with communist nations and the future of the manned bomber.

Representative Dave Martin called for a "cutback on our spending program and a halt to the enactment of any new spending programs."

Martin specifically urged an end to foreign aid.

Also participating in the election were Lieutenant Governor nominee Charles Thone, Attorney General Clarence Meyer, State auditor Ray Johnson and Secretary of State Frank Marsh.

Adams County Republican Chairman Fred Seaton acted as master of ceremonies and former Gov. Val Peterson was on hand to see the caravan off to a good start.

HHH Sets Major Talk

Democratic vice presidential candidate Hubert Humphrey will fly to Omaha Monday night to address a major campaign rally at the Omaha Civic Auditorium.

Democratic National Committeeman Marvin Werve said Humphrey will arrive at the Omaha Airport between 8 and 8:30 p.m. Monday night and will proceed immediately to the auditorium where he will speak at 9 p.m. over live television and a statewide radio network.

Werve said the Democratic rally at the auditorium, which will be open to the public at no charge, will feature appearances of all Nebraska Democratic candidates for Congress, the U.S. Senate and all state offices.

The rally will be in progress when Sen. Humphrey arrives.

Because of Humphrey's tight schedule, Werve said no reception will be held at the airport on his arrival. He will be met by Gov. Morrison who will lead a motorcade, including approximately 40 persons traveling with the senator, to the auditorium.

LBJ Advocates Atom Restraint

. . . BELITTLES BARRY FOR WANTING MARINES SENT TO CUBA

Baltimore, Md. (UPI)—President Johnson said Thursday the nation's awesome nuclear power must be used with restraint to "make man's extinction improbable," not to serve ultimatums on other governments.

The chief executive suggested that he was more prudent in recent international crises than his Republican rival, Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, might have been had he occupied the White House.

Although he did not mention the GOP presidential contender by name, Johnson belittled Goldwater's proposal to send Marines to Quantanamo Naval Base when Cuban Premier Fidel Castro cut off the water supply last fall.

At Johns Hopkins

In a speech before an estimated 7,000 persons at Johns Hopkins University, the President said:

"We are possessed of great power in America—power to destroy all human life or to make human life sublime. Our politics must serve our faith rather than fostering our fears.

"We have in our power at this moment the ability to destroy 300 times as many American lives as were lost in the entire many years of World War II.

"So the purpose of our politics must be to make man's extinction improbable and man's fulfillment inevitable."

'Crisis An Hour'

Johnson said he faced "a crisis an hour" and would have more problems after his speech than he had before he left. Most of them, he said, spring from ancient disagreements in such places as Cyprus, Africa or Asia.

Departing frequently from his prepared speech, the President referred to the Cuban missile crisis in 1962 and the recent bombing of North Vietnamese torpedo boat bases as examples of restraint in periods of crisis.

"It would have been easy to wipe out women and children and drop bombs on China," he said of reprisals for communist attacks on U.S. warships in the Tonkin Gulf. Instead, he said, areas with large civilian populations were excluded.

JFK The 'Coolest'

In the showdown with the Soviet Union over missile bases in Cuba, he said, the late President John F. Kennedy was the "coolest man at the table" during 37 crisis meetings.

Republicans in the Cabinet joined with Democrats to work out a solution in the best interest of the country, Johnson said. This was an apparent reference to Goldwater's charge that the crisis was timed to help the Democrats in the 1962 elections.

Recalling "frightening and dreadful moments" in that encounter, Johnson said: "When I kissed my wife and daughters goodbye in the morning, I never knew whether I would see them again at night."

Barry Hits Demos On Political Action

With Goldwater in Indiana (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater accused his opposition Thursday of conducting a "lie-filled campaign" and playing "the game of politics" with foreign policy.

In one of his hardest-hitting speeches of the campaign to date the Republican presidential nominee called President Johnson "an interim President . . . to whom everything is just a political game."

His main attack on the Democratic administration was in a speech at Indianapolis, one of seven scheduled on a one-day train campaign through the Hoosier State.

"This interim President, who seeks to win an election by talk of war, doesn't understand the first thing about keeping the peace," Goldwater said.

'War Under Demos'

"I will not be a wartime president," Goldwater said, asserting that "this nation has gone to war three times in this century but not under a Republican president."

Goldwater accused the administration of trying to picture him as a man who wants war.

"This is nothing but the big lie," he said.

He said Johnson "talks of peace but he has no stomach to face up to the main threat to the peace—communism. He talks of preparedness but he has no stomach for the truth of preparedness. He takes credit for defense measures which others began—in the Eisenhower years. He sacrifices security to the mounting bills of his political programs . . . This interim President seeks only to buy votes."

Goldwater repeated his charge that the Johnson administration is "soft on communism."

Recalling the President's advance announcement that the United States was taking retaliatory action after attacks on naval vessels in the Gulf of Tonkin, Goldwater asked:

"And why the alert? You know why and I know why—to play the game of politics no matter what . . ."

Ag Policy Hit

At Jeffersonville and Seymour, Goldwater stressed his foreign policy and preparedness views, but in more rural Columbus he attacked the administration's farm policies.

Thirty per cent of the nation's farmers, he said, have lost their freedom through the Democrats' farm programs.

If elected, he said he would replace Orville Freeman with a secretary of agriculture "who can spell the word "farm" and who knows what it is to get a little dirt on his hands."

FOUR-YEAR-OLD . . . charms pigs, left, but he doesn't like his prize, a kiss from Fair Princess Lana Gieselman.

Johnny Defeats Woman, 85, As Champion Hog Caller

Pamona, Calif. (AP)—Adults with lungs of leather took turns bellowing at a small herd of disdainful swine at the Los Angeles County Fair's hog-calling championship.

"Whoo, pigs!" yelled one. "Sooo-ey, soo-ey!" hollered another.

And not a pig moved.

Then up stood a slim, blond boy named Johnny.

"Pigs?" he cried, in a clear, young voice, "Piggy? Piggy?"

'Oink, Oink'

Half a dozen big porkers lunged across the pig pavillion in answer to the call. They oinked happily. The crowd applauded.

And that was how 4-year-old Johnny Mangrith, of Pomona, won the 1964 hog-calling trophy.

Runner-up was the 1955 champion, Mrs. Sarah E. Shaffstall of Cucamonga. She is 85.

The winner's father is an agent of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service, and admits to calling hogs, now and then, as a hobby.

Marine Fizzle

Among those who failed to place was a Marine from Camp Pendleton, Calif., who said he practiced hog calling at night in the barracks to build up his lungs.

An expert explained Johnny's victory this way:

"It ain't the volume that counts, but the appeal of your voice. You got to make the hawgs think you have something for them."

SUNKEN SUB . . . draft markings on topside rudder; port stern visible in foreground.

Thresher's Grave Located By Navy

Washington (AP)—The Navy disclosed Thursday that underwater search experiments this summer with improved equipment produced the most conclusive evidence so far pinpointing the location of the Thresher.

Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze said photographs taken showed these things, covered by one to two inches of sand crust:

—The tail section, with the Thresher's draft number 593 visible, her stern plates and topside rudder.

—The tail, or conning tower, bearing the numbers 593, and the attached sail plane.

Broke Apart

The Thresher went down in about 8,400 feet of water approximately 220 miles east of Cape Cod with 129 men aboard on April 10 last year during deep sea diving tests. It was believed to have broken apart.

The deep-diving bathyscaph Trieste I spent the summer of last year searching the area until the approach of rough fall weather forced the operation to be halted on Sept. 5, 1963, after 10 dives.

The Trieste's crew plucked from the ocean floor a single bit of twisted copper tubing from the sunken vessel's ventilating system. It bore the symbol "593 Boat" and other markings linked with the Thresher. Great quantities of metal plating thought to have come from the missing submarine's hull and batteries were sighted. But these were the only clues to the sub's fate.

At the time, the Navy announced the search for the Thresher was being definitely ended. It said any further exploration in the area would be in connection with oceanographic studies then under way.

The location of the hull was not definitely pinpointed until Thursday. There has been no report of locating the remains of any of the 129 crewmen.

The Navy this summer sent an improved bathyscaph, the Trieste II, to the area, along with a cargo ship and a salvage vessel. They spent June, July and August testing new and improved deep search and inspection ideas and equipment.

Nitze said the operations "have resulted in a significant improvement of the Navy's capability to search out and inspect objects in ocean depths approaching 10,000 feet."

The Thresher's wreckage was photographed both by a camera-magnetometer rig towed by the cargo ship Mizar and by the Trieste II.

The Trieste II is manned by three men and the Navy said it has the same depth capability as the Trieste I, which set the world's deep sea diving record of 35,800 feet in 1960.

No Cause Found

Thursday's announcement gave no further clue to the cause of the Thresher's disaster. A board of inquiry had suggested earlier that it occurred because of a failure in the piping system, likely in the engine room, and that the mighty pressure of the sea water surrounding the submarine caused rapid flooding.

The Navy did not explain immediately the reason why the latest findings were not announced sooner.

Edwards Seeks Full Probe Of Charges Against Miller

Washington (UPI) — Rep. W. Donlon Edwards, D-Calif., introduced a resolution in the House Thursday calling for a "full investigation" of conflict of interest charges against Republican vice presidential candidate William E. Miller.

Edwards asked in a House speech for the establishment of a select five-man committee to inquire into the allegations and report before the end of this congressional session.

Miller said in a televised interview Wednesday night that such accusations were "absurd."

Edwards noted the telecast and especially Miller's contention that no responsible Democrat had raised the issue.

Edwards noted the matter had been raised on the House floor Sept. 22 by Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio. Democratic National Chairman John Bailey also had demanded a full inquiry.

"So there can be no chance that he is once again not informed," Edwards said. "I personally am going to have the statement I am making, and a statement I expect to make, delivered to Mr. Miller's office with the specific request that it be forwarded to him."

Miller, while on the board of the Lockport Felt Co., voted against legislation which would have permitted carpetmakers to import duty-free coarse wool.

The GOP vice presidential candidate said Wednesday night that all congressmen who had felt companies in their districts or who represented wool growers fought against the same legislation.

He said if the case was a conflict of interest, "No member of the House who owns a farm could vote on any agricultural legislation—and you couldn't get a House vote on such a matter."

Edwards said a recent court decision made clear that where a member of the House "violates his obligations to act solely in the public interests, there still may not be criminal sanction, and that we in this House have the obligation of investigation and disciplinary action."

"We have an obligation to consider whether such a case is now before us," Edwards declared.

Many Details Involved In Cornpicking Contest

Bancroft — There's a lot more to picking a winner in a state cornpicking contest than merely watching talented farmers maneuver cornpicking machines expertly through the field.

An idea of the large number of persons required to run a state cornpicking contest, the complicated procedures necessary to assure fair competition, and the amount of preparation necessary before the contest, was given this week by University of Nebraska specialists.

The state contest, to be held October 5 on the Arnold Samuelson farm 1½ miles west of Bancroft, is co-sponsored by the university, Meredith WOW radio and television, Omaha; and the Bancroft Chamber of Commerce.

D. E. Lane, university Extension agricultural engineer, pointed out that the university is responsible for the judging and scoring of the contest. State contest rules are patterned after those set up by the national cornpicking contest committee, which is made up of Extension agricultural engineers from various universities, representatives of sponsoring radio stations, and representatives of participating farm equipment manufacturers.

Scoring Up To NU

Judging rules require that university personnel assist in contest field layout and in preparation of the actual area on which the contest will be held, Lane said. The university representative in the host county—the county agent—is responsible for the selection of persons to serve on judging teams. Local committees, with assistance from university personnel, arrange for manpower and equipment to handle corn picked during contest land preparation and during the contest contestants furnish their own tractors and machines and arrange for wagons to be used at the contest. Scoring of the contest is handled entirely by university personnel.

The contest is made up of three divisions: two-row pickers, picker-shellers, and combines with cornheads. Each division is run in a separate heat and has individual winners for each division. Division winners are eligible to attend the 1963 national cornpicking contest at Sioux Falls, So. Dak., October 15, Lane concluded.

Two 1963 winners, Lester L. Fisher of Rulo and William R. Smoots of Monroe, will be among contestants in the 1964 contest. Other contestants include:

Bill Blair, Winnetoon
Kenneth H. Wiese, Grand Island
John A. Sunderman, Pender

Misko Assumes New Bank Post

Holdrege (AP)—Ralph Misko took over operation of the First Security Bank here Thursday, just one year after his resignation as director of banking for the state of Nebraska.

An active banker since 1934, Misko first announced his intention of becoming associated with the bank here when he was still serving as state banking director.

A native of Ord, he joined the staff of the First National Bank there in 1934 and in 1940 bought a controlling interest. After selling the Ord bank, he owned or was associated with banks in Omaha, Eaton, Colo. and York.

Since his resignation from state office, Misko organized the City National Bank of Lincoln which opened for business Aug. 1. He purchased the interest in the Holdrege bank from Robert H. Perry.

Union Files Suit Against Frontier Inc.

Omaha (AP)—The United Steel Workers Union, which has been involved in a dispute with Frontier Enterprises, Inc., maker of mobile homes in Falls City, Neb., filed suit for $7,550,000 in Federal District Court Thursday.

The petition naming Frontier and several individuals including Burton C. Davidson, vice president and general manager, alleged the defendants engaged in a conspiracy to deprive union members of equal protection under state and local laws "particularly in relation to picketing· disturbing the peace and distribution of handbills."

The parent union asked $1 million dollars, the local $300,000 and numerous persons from $50,000 to $100,000 each.

The petition alleged that City Attorney Paul Chaney also is representing Frontier. Harold Gurske, assistant city attorney, is the personal attorney of Richardson County Sheriff Ed Mahoney. Also named defendants are Deputy Sheriff Howard Simmons and two bonding companies.

Red Ball Trucking Firm Sold; Price About $1,250,000

Omaha (AP)—The Red Ball Trucking Co. of Omaha has been sold to Chicago-Denver Trucking Co.

Officials of the two firms said Red Ball will operate as a wholly owned subsidiary and will continue to be headquartered in Omaha.

The president of the Colorado firm, Leslie G. Taylor, said the purchase price was about $1,250,000. The purchase was made in May but formal approval was necessary from the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Red Ball president Ralph Nogg will retain that position under the new ownership.

Red Ball serves regional shippers through nine terminals stretching from Chicago to Denver. Denver-Chicago has coast-to-coast operations.

Bassett Senior Receives $300 Home Ec Award

Joan McGuire, a senior in the University of Nebraska, was presented the $300 Borden scholarship award Thursday night at the Home Economics Club's annual Ellen H. Richards dessert at the Nebraska Union.

Miss McGuire

This is the 20th year the award has been presented to the senior in home economics who has achieved the highest grade average during the preceding three years and who has taken two or more food and nutrition courses.

The award was presented by Dr. Virginia Trotter, associate dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics and dean of the School of Home Economics.

Miss McGuire, 21, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McGuire of Bassett. Her three-year grade average is 7.97 (9.0 is perfect). She is majoring in home economics education.

Miss McGuire is president of the University 4-H Club, plays in the NU Symphonic Band, and is a member of Mortar Board, Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Upsilon Omicron and Omicron NU honoraries.

Egg Grader Demonstrated

Prof. Howard Wiegers, left, of the University of Nebraska poultry science department, and Doyle Free, secretary-treasurer of the Nebraska Poultry Improvement Association, demonstrate an egg grading machine in connection with open house held at the university's new poultry research center. About 75 poultry industry leaders toured the center, consisting of nine new commercial-type buildings providing more than 47,000 square feet of space for highly-controlled experiments.

75% Of Nebraska's Practicing Physicians Trained In State

Kearney (AP)—The new dean of the Nebraska College of Medicine said Thursday that the Cornhusker state's ratio in keeping its trained physicians is higher than other states.

Dr. Cecil Wittson addressed the first annual meeting of state and county medical society officers. The two-day conference was aimed at solving mutual problems.

He said 73% of the practicing physicians in the state are Nebraska-trained, compared with 44% home-trained in other states.

Dr. Wittson said under his leadership the College of Medicine would work for continuing education of the state's doctors. He noted that medical science is developing so rapidly, doctors need help from the College of Medicine to keep up.

The future of the medical school, he said, depends upon the interest and help received from doctors in the state.

He said outstate Nebraska was in need of 250 general practioners in order to bring the doctor-patient ratio to an acceptable level.

Dr. Wittson said it will be the job of the College of Medicine to work toward locating more doctors for rural areas.

Ousted Chief Of Can. Union Found In NY

New York (UPI) — Hal Banks, a deposed Canadian union leader who vanished in July after jumping $25,000 bail, was found Thursday by reporters. He was living in a plush yacht anchored in a Marine basin in Brooklyn.

News of the event touched off angry charges of government lethargy in Canada.

"What the government, with all its resources, was unable to achieve has now been accomplished by the press," former prime minister John Diefenbaker said.

Diefenbaker, leader of the opposition in the Canadian parliament, charged the government with "complete indifference."

Banks, who was thrown out of office as president of the Seafarers' International Union (SIU) in Canada, was found by reporter Robert Reguly of the Toronto Star and photographer Andrew Lopez of United Press International. He was located on the union's yacht.

Banks identified himself, but refused to answer any questions.

Banks was sentenced to five years in prison for conspiring to beat up a rival union organizer in Owen Sound, Ontario, in 1956. He was released on $25,000 bail in July and vanished.

Police in Brooklyn said they had received no request from Canadian authorities to arrest Banks. His yacht was still in the same place late Thursday night.

Mrs. Kennedy Donates 2 Irish Deer To Zoo

New York (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy has donated two small Irish deer to the children's zoo in Central Park.

The deer, given to the former First Lady last fall by the president of Ireland, Eamon de Valera, have been on the Kennedys' Virginia estate.

NFO Calls Off Holding Action

Corning (AP) — The National Farmers Organization Thursday night called off its action to withhold livestock from market in an effort to get higher prices.

But in a statement making the announcement, NFO President Oren Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., said the organization has gained strength during the 42-day period the market boycott was in effect and the halt is only temporary.

The holding action started on the night of Aug. 19.

It was the fifth time the NFO has resorted to this procedure but the first three were of very short duration. The longest previous one in 1962 lasted 33 days.

The NFO does not disclose the size of its membership.

The national directors urged members to engage in only peaceful persuasion but during September there were numerous reports of violence in the Midwest.

These included the cutting of farm fences, damage to tires of livestock trucks, shots fired at vehicles and several instances of the use of dynamite.

Staley said that terminal markets and buying stations have daily been reporting "ficticious" figures on supplies of livestock.

He told members:

"There has been a lot of lightweight hogs and cattle marketed during this holding action and this has decreased the total tonnage so they the meat processors need your production now very badly.

"Don't let them beat you down drastically on weights. Market in an orderly fashion. Don't let them stampede you."

Hordville Elevator Gets First Milo

Polk (AP)—The manager of the Farmers Elevator at Hordville, Duane Hahn, reported the first milo of the season arrived at the elevator Wednesday.

Hahn said Arlo Stevens reported a 10 acre irrigated field yielded 1,100 bushels. It tested 15½.

At Polk, Farmers Elevator manager Dean Myers reported Clarence Creech was first in with milo at that elevator. He said his 13-acre dry land field averaged 65 bushels per acre and tested 14.

NewmanHeld For Trial On Murder Count

O'Neill (AP)—Holt County Judge Frank Cronk Thursday ordered James K. Newman, 46, of O'Neill held without bond for District Court trial on a charge of first degree murder.

Newman is charged in the Sunday night slaying of Stuart town marshal Delbert Addison, 51.

Newman pleaded innocent.

Dr. James Ramsey of Atkinson testified at Thursday's preliminary hearing that Addison had told him he was shot by Newman.

State Patrol Sgt. Ray Shorney produced a .38 caliber revolver which he said was Newman's. He said two shots had been fired and three live cartridges remained in the chambers.

County Attorney William Griffing said earlier that Addison had been shot on a Stuart street corner following an argument with Newman. He said Addison had arrested Newman's teenage son on a driving charge a week earlier and had arrested him again over the weekend.

Where Goldwater Stands

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Bringing his campaign to Nebraska, Rep. William Miller said in Omaha this week that the positions of Sen. Barry Goldwater have been distorted on the farm issue, Social Security and the use of nuclear weapons. The latter was expanded to include general defense and foreign policy. Thus, it would seem appropriate that the voters be given an unbiased rundown of Goldwater's position in these areas so they can decide for themselves where the senator stands.

An Impartial Analysis

The source for this analysis is Congressional Quarterly, a private fact-gathering service to which many newspapers subscribe. Congressional Quarterly (CQ) is widely known for its non-partisanship, its complete absence of opinion and its integrity. We know of no candidate for public office or political party ever having questioned its accuracy or reliability. On Goldwater and Social Security, CQ reports: "Goldwater has been sternly critical of the Social Security system and repeatedly urged it be made 'voluntary'. He has expressed a clear preference for private insurance plans and warned that Social Security taxes will become prohibitively high by 1970.

"Goldwater has never advocated repeal of the Social Security system. In fact, he was with the majority when the Senate Aug. 16, 1958 passed a bill increasing old age, survivors and disability payments by approximately seven percent.

"In 1956 Goldwater had voted to make Social Security benefits available to women at age 62, instead of 65. The affirmative Senate vote was 86-7. On virtually every other occasion, however, Goldwater has voted against proposed expansions in the Social Security system.

"In 1960 and 1962 Goldwater voted against the Kennedy-backed 'medicare' bill to provide medical care for the aged financed through the Social Security system. In 1960 Goldwater was one of two senators to vote against the Kerr-Mills bill for matching federal grants to the states to cover medical expenses of the indigent elderly. But he now cites this law as a 'much better' approach than the Kennedy 'medicare' plan and criticizes the administration for an alleged sabotaging of Kerr-Mills.

★

"During the 1964 New Hampshire presidential primary campaign, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller charged that action to make Social Security 'voluntary' in line with Goldwater's recommendation would bankrupt the system and deprive the aged of their payments. Goldwater then stopped calling for a switch to a voluntary system. All his subsequent statements have stressed his support of Social Security." Goldwater recorded no vote on the last Senate action on Social Security—a measure upping benefits and adding medical care for the aged under the same program.

The most representative quote from Goldwater on the subject seems to be a statement he made as follows in a television interview Jan. 11, 1963: "I would advocate the improvement of it (Social Security). I wouldn't advocate the repeal of that. I have never advocated the repeal of it, but I would advocate the improvement of it, because I prophesy that around 1970 you're going to find a revolt amongst the payers of Social Security when they discover the taxes they pay, plus the taxes of their employer, would enable them to buy a much better program on the private market than they're getting from the government. In fact, I have advocated time and again that we make it number one, voluntary, and that we make it more flexible."

From his record and from what he has said, it is obvious that Goldwater is no fan of Social Security. He has repeatedly said and it cannot be doubted that he would seek to make the system voluntary. It is our opinion that Goldwater would be an enemy, not a friend, of Social Security but voters are free to make up their own minds from the above record.

On the farm question, CQ reports: "The federal government's role in agriculture would be sharply reduced if Goldwater were allowed to write farm policy, his present policies indicate . . . Goldwater has been an almost constant foe of government subsidies and price supports. He was a strong supporter of Eisenhower Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson and his policies. Goldwater feels that 'farmers want to free themselves from government guarantees and restrictions,' and he has suggested that such programs as the Rural Electrification Administration be abolished."

From his book of 1960, "Conscience of a Conservative," comes this statement: "The reason government intervention has created more problems than it has solved is quite simple. Farm production, like any other production, is best controlled by the natural operation of the free market . . . There is a positive evil in these (federal) programs: in effect, they reward people for not producing. For a nation that is expressing great concern over its 'economic growth,' I cannot conceive of a more absurb and self-defeating policy than one which subsidizes non-production . . . Doing something about (the farm problem) means—and there can be no equivocation here—prompt and final termination of the farm subsidy program. The only way to persuade farmers to enter other fields of endeavor is to stop paying inefficient farmers for produce that cannot be sold at free market prices."

It is a fact that Goldwater now maintains that he would favor a gradual elimination of government farm programs and he and his backers indicate that this would take four or five years. Farmers can decide for themselves what they want but if they vote for Goldwater, they should do so firmly convinced that all farm programs would be eliminated as quickly as possible.

In the area of defense, foreign policy and war, there can be no yes-and-no answers. These are not things you are either for or against, with the exception of war and no one suggests that Goldwater is "for war." What must be weighed here is Goldwater's position and statements, with a final conclusion drawn as to where he would lead us, regardless of what he intended.

It is our conviction that he is dangerous even from this point of view, a serious threat to the world and even the unsteady peace that exists today. As an example, he did say in his presidential nomination acceptance speech that "extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice . . . and . . . that moderation in the pursuit of justice is no virtue."

The Use Of Force

He did say on Sept 2, 1963 in U.S. News & World Report that "I have always favored withdrawing recognition from Russia." He was directly quoted in Newsweek, May 20, 1963, as saying "I'd drop a low-yield atomic bomb on Chinese supply lines in North Viet Nam." He did say in "Conscience of a Conservative" that the U.S. must be prepared "to undertake military operations against vulnerable communist regimes." Asked in the famous German magazine interview of June 30, 1964, if he stood by his 1960 suggestion that nuclear weapons should be used to help possible uprisings in Eastern Europe (such as the 1956 Hungarian uprising) Goldwater said: "If that became necessary, if that were the only way, yes."

One can go on for quite some length quoting Goldwater to this effect. It is no distortion to present Goldwater as a man dedicated to the use of force to a much larger degree than has been the policy of any recent administration and as a man with much less respect for the nature of atomic weapons and the consequences of their use than President Johnson. Once again, voters can make up their own minds but we believe Goldwater to be a serious international danger.

Ammo For Both Sides

The six man Senate committee has turned in its report on Billie Sol Estes.

Since it was a bi-partisan committee the report seems to give an even break to the Republicans and Democrats. So we can expect a few campaign bonfires.

Two Republicans, Nebraska's Carl Curtis and South Dakota's Senator Mundt, came up with the conclusion that Mr. Estes was favored on the county, the state and the national level. Two Democrats reached the conclusion that the U.S. Department of Agriculture should be absolved of any suspicion of favoritism.

So you pay your money and take your choice, according to which party you prefer.

Actually the two-year study was not directed to the matter of favoritism at all. It sought to make a judgment on whether Mr. Estes was within his legal rights in obtaining cotton allotments, and whether he stored more government grain than his share.

The investigation did show that Estes did not skin the federal government out of a dime. The ones who lost money on him were a chemical company, private money lenders and some Texans who thought they saw bigger profits by stringing along with his schemes.

The Spirit Lifter

It would be unjust to a lately past age to pass by the death of Harpo Marx, the clown, without comment.

Harpo was a member of the famous Marx Brothers act, the silent number, but no less humorously zany than the noisy brothers. He was the one with the orange wooly wig, the cane with the automobile horn, the rubbery face and the expressive eyes, the only actor we know who achieved the ultimate without ever saying a word.

He also could play the harp, and we mean play it like the virtuoso he was. No matter how wild the pace of the show there was always that glorious moment when it quieted down and he played on his harp.

They say he was an intellectual. That we don't know. That's what the movie writers said of him, and they are notably loose with their descriptives. But he was highly intelligent, smart enough to quit public life on the high and to live quietly as a highly thought of citizen, and that takes an unusual amount of mental equilibrium for a man in his field. If there was any taint in his reputation, we never heard of it.

Harpo was one of the great clowns. But to America he was a timely one. He and his brothers had achieved lasting station on the New York stage, but they went national through Hollywood during the depressed '30's. America was never more despondent nor puzzled than during those hurtful years. They needed something to lift their spirits, to make them laugh, and the Marx Brothers had that very talent.

A failing businessman could spend a few cents for an evening with the Marx brothers. They could learn to laugh again. The unemployed could gain more days of hope. And all could bear the vicissitudes of life with renewed patience.

The Pot Calling The Kettle Black

WASHINGTON — When you talk to Bill Miller, the would-be GOP vice president seems like an awfully nice guy. He seems frank, convincing, sincere. Furthermore, some of his neighobrs love him, and Dick Archibald of the Union Wadding Co., a neighbor in Lockport, N.Y., has been urging me to write something nice about him.

However, when you examine some of Bill's statements and all that's behind them, you have to conclude that the public has a right to know the truth.

At the Texas Republican convention on Sept. 15, Miller waved a copy of a deed to seven lakeside sites outside Austin and told 4,000 cheering Republicans how Lyndon Johnson had placed racial restrictions on them nineteen years ago.

What the would-be vice president didn't tell his listeners, however, was that at that very moment he had been on the long distance telephone to his Washington real estate agent, Ted Lingo, to discuss the racial restriction on his own $60,000 residence in the Washinton suburbs.

☆ ☆ ☆

Miller had bought his home at 6605 Radnor Road, Bethesda, Md., as part of a completely restricted community, and he made three or four long distance calls to agent Lingo to make sure that they both told the same story if this fact was later revealed by the press.

Nine days later, as this newsman was digging into his restricted covenant, Miller issued a statement that he had "discovered" his home had been covered by an anti-Negro restriction as part of a deed covering all the land in his area. The explanation on Sept. 24 made it appear that he had just "discovered" this, when the truth was that he had been frantically phoning his real estate broker on or about Sept. 15.

☆ ☆ ☆

A research of the real estate records in Phoenix, Ariz., shows that the would-be GOP president lived until four years ago at the Country Club Manor, a development which has a restriction banning those not of the Caucasian race.

Barry's brother, Robert Goldwater, was the instigator of the restriction and served as a member of the board of review of the subdivision under Article 9 to see that it was enforced.

Furthermore, Barry's mother, Mrs. Josephine Goldwater, lives there. Thus the entire Goldwater family lived under a restricted covenant until four years ago when Barry moved to Paradise Valley, a newly incorporated town.

The public has a right to know what kind of pot is calling the kettle black.

Goldwater Lacks Sustaining Theme

ABROAD GOLDWATER TRAIN in Midwest—As a campaigner for the presidency, Sen. Barry Goldwater lacks the gift of the sustaining theme.

His train is taking him through rich farming and industrial areas of important states where he is met by happy crowds prepared to float on clouds of his inspiration. It is some of the most invigorating country in the world. Even the fall sunshine is cooperating.

Yet, despite such surroundings, Goldwater seems unable to project a coherent and hopeful view of his new conservatism upon which he can continue to build a reasonable alternative to what Americans have now.

He strikes no spark and achieves no crescendo.

He skips around. He opens closets and displays skeletons marked Bobby Baker, Billie Sol Estes and Matt McCloskey.

He invokes the shade of Joseph R. McCarthy with an assertion that the Johnson administration is "soft on communism."

He airs various prejudices which some Americans share. He says President Johnson is a get-rich-quick type who knows only how to make money and attract power. Sen Hubert Humphrey, he says, is a socialist radical.

☆ ☆ ☆

This was the fare at Cincinnati but the early morning enthusiasts at Middletown next got a heavy dose of the iniquities of foreign aid in Bolivia, the Congo and Ghana, all more than a trifle remote from their immediate problems.

He threw away a larger and equally hospitable crowd at Dayton with a technical attack on a new manned interceptor plane which Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara was unveiling in California. This echoed an Air Force view which Goldwater, reserve major general in that service, passionately shares. Dayton is an Air Force center, but it was not a uniformed crowd.

Columbus got an unfavorable view of "Johnson's War," which is the situation in Viet Nam. In Toledo "Dollar Tag Americans" and a 1947 comment on socialism by Arthur Schlesinger Jr., the Harvard liberal now described as being on Humphrey's staff, were compared invidiously to "private property, free competition and hard work."

Such speeches are nothing new in American politics. They do not add up to plans and policy for an administration which would face the opposite direction from the recent past. They are strictly local stuff.

☆ ☆ ☆

Goldwater has felt the heat of attacks on his past statements about nuclear weapons and nuclear policy. He is avoiding the topic and foreign policy as well except for compliments to Atlantic civilization at Cincinnati. Here he made a rather striking omission.

Our destiny, he suggested, was to "stand as a great central pillar linking Europe, the Americas, and the venerable and vital peoples of the Pacific." Africa was not mentioned.

Early impressions of this journey, so crucial to his hopes, must be that he has not fixed upon a clear way to retrieve his apparent setbacks. He is trying one thing and another. He is clearly tempted to attempt destruction of the reputations of the President and Humphrey, though he omitted in delivery two short lines of his advance text at Cincinnati.

In this pre-election period of charge and countercharge, Bill Plourd's discussion of the variable and the constant, in the Nance County Journal, is very well taken. Mr. Plourd explains it thus. A mathematical number that does not change in value is a "constant," and one that does is a "variable." Thus two and two make four and such are constant figures.

"But what one political orator says about the candidate of the opposition should always be considered as a variable and never as a constant."

Most such speakers deal strictly in variables, Mr. Plourd states and "it means whatever he wants you to think it means."

A Bertrand Herald writer describes himself as the proud possessor—from a distance—of a couple of rattles taken from two rattlers at a farm home. A farmer raking hay saw a three-foot rattler go into a hole and he and his father dug out two, each three feet long and each sporting ten rattles and a button.

The Herald writer reckons he might take his friend's picture with the rattles — "that's just about as close as I want to get to one of those snakes!"

The Lyons Post Office Department may not be the speediest in the world, but eventually the mails do go through there, by golly, even if it takes 20 years.

Prying open the side of a distribution box, preparatory to adding a new one, a letter was discovered that had been mailed in 1944, airmail, from Illinois and had never been delivered—"yet" the Mirror Sun qualified.

The Holdrege Citizen's entire classified ad-taking department was thrown into a tizzy recently when someone wanted to insert a simple "for sale" ad in the paper offering pups for sale.

The hooker came when the description included the name of the breed, which sounds like "Chi-wah-wah." Nearly everyone could say it but no one knew how to spell it. And how is one going to look up the spelling of a word in the dictionary when he doesn't know how to spell it, and therefore where to look, in the first place?

The Citizen chuckled that "it began to look like we might not make it to press on time when the lost dog was found. Eureka! It's spelled Chihuahua!"

Then, on a laudable business note, it concluded: "If you are interested in a watch-charm size pup, you'll find the advertisement in today's classified department."

Ord has an interesting little store among its business houses that deals in just about anything anyone might want to buy or sell. It's a clearing house for everything from draperies to overalls, formals to football shoes, coffee pots, corn poppers — you name it and Proprietor Eleanor Lenker probably has it.

Mrs. Lenker says she is afraid to refuse anything on the sound old theory that one man's meat is another man's poison, or vice versa. Recently a woman left a box of tattered old hymn books, and another woman who collects them bought the entire lot. However, a pair of overalls with a 52-inch waistline has been in stock for some time now, with no takers.

Clientele includes the "bringers" and the "buyers" and the "browsers" and all are welcome. Customers come from many surrounding Nebraska towns and occasionally even from other states. Items on the shelves have come from many far points and some of the clothing bears such famous labels as Christian Dior, Sachs and others.

The Cairo Record's interpreter of what is new and different in "A Woman's Whirl" takes rather amazed note of the latest in make-up items to be found on the market. One is a coloring cream for ears which can be worn with or without earrings. The variety of colors is made to be matched up with clothing. One can only imagine the casual conversation after an evening of social activity. "And did you notice the divine aqua that Mrs. Abernathy was wearing her ears tonight, m'dear?"

Your Five Cents Worth

Brevity in letters is requested but length in itself will have no bearing on publication. Writers are advised that needless details and repetious matter will be edited out of letters. Too frequent contributions from one person on the same subject may be rejected. All letters must be accompanied by writer's true name but may be submitted for publication under a pen name or initials. However, letters will be printed under a pen name or initials at the editors discretion.

Quote From Ike

Lincoln, Neb.

Following is a quote from an article by Dwight Eisenhower entitled "Why I Am A Republican:"

"I had to make up my own mind as to which party offered the conscientious citizen the best guide for political judgment in these modern times . . . We should continually refresh our knowledge of our Constitution which, with its Bill of Rights, spells out in detail the letter and the spirit of the rights to which each of us is entitled. These principles and the continued exercise of these rights have directed the United States to its place as the most powerful, most prosperous and, above all, most free nation on the face of the earth. We want to keep it that way.

"That is why I am increasingly disturbed by the steady, obvious drift of our nation toward a centralization of power in the federal government . . . The hard fact is that under many years of Democratic party leadership, our country has been lured into the 'easy way,' a path of federal expediency which, like a narcotic, may give us a false sense of well-being, but in the long-run is dangerous to our future, our basic rights, our moral fiber and our individual freedom . . .

"The dollar you earned and saved 24 years ago is now worth just 45 cents . . . It is a cruel injustice to people who worked hard all their lives, who were frugal and self-reliant in accumulating savings, insurance and pensions for their old age . . . And more of this shrinkage lies ahead, unless we elect a government with the courage and resolution to follow sound fiscal policies.

"Here was where the United States, like Rome, went wrong—here at the peak of its power and prosperity when it forgot those ideals which made it great."

I truly agree with the above quotations and am in hopes the new as well as the old can heed such advice.

The Decision

Prague, Neb.

One farm organization is in the midst of a holding action, keeping livestock off the market for a long enough time that the opposition will have to come to the farmer and bargain for definite prices under contract.

That, however, is not the only opposition they have to beat. Another so-called farm organization, the one that tells the law-makers in Washington that the farmer couldn't have it any better, is having organized marketing days to counteract the honest efforts of the organization that is trying to raise the farm income.

It shouldn't be much of a problem for the farmer to decide which organization to join. The small businessman shouldn't have any trouble deciding which one he should support.

Together we will both prosper.

The Big Problem

McCook, Neb.

I agree with Fay L. Danker (Sept. 16 Star) in that apparently "we are a bunch of nuts running around in a circle with no leader," and I do not expect our school authorities to override the parents. But I do not agree that "delinquent parents" are our Number One national problem.

On my list, the Number One problem is the liquor being devoured in our nation. The people as a whole have accepted it as their god and it is not limited to parents, teenagers or individuals. If we do not get the root of it, all other procedures are of no avail. Alcohol is the most heart-rending home-breaker and riot-builder in our nation. It gives a false sense of value, pride, courage and security which eventually leads to poverty and disgrace.

The sad and hard part of the problem is, how can we solve it when we have so many adults in gatherings who think they cannot mix with the crowd, get their point across or get ahead without Mr. Strong Drink running freely among the crowd. We know that parents alone cannot control this thing, although we do play a very large part and must never let go. Federal control is not the answer, nor is prohibition, as either of these would bring on more lawlessness. I think the law raising the fines on "minors in possession" helped some in regard to teenagers, but how about the adults? The teenagers would not have it in their possession to begin with if it were not for adults.

This is not a hopeless case if society will shoulder its responsibility instead of trying to push it all off onto the teenagers and their parents.

Choice Of Barry

Lincoln, Neb.

Any Democrat or Republican who fears that if Barry Goldwater is elected president our nation is doomed to ignominy should realize that he knows personally many men of the highest intelligence, well versed in government affairs, strong morally, deeply concerned about the United States and all the citizens, and also fearless to stand up for what is right and just. These are the men he would choose for his advisors and appointive officers. We all know these are the greatest need of our government today.

Voting for Barry Goldwater would prove that the citizens still favor peace and freedom.

ISSUES—1964:

Amendments Cover Diverse Subjects

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth of a series of stories on issues facing the voter on Nov. 3.)

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Among amendments to be submitted to the voters this November by the Legislature are three which would: extend the terms of four state constitutional officers; provide for separate classification of some motor vehicles according to ownership and use, and exempt from taxation the residences of paraplegic veterans.

The first of the amendments—increasing the terms of office — would affect the secretary of state, auditor, treasurer and attorney general, under Article IV, Section 1.

These officers presently are elected to serve two-year terms, but would be elected to four-year terms—beginning in 1966 — if the amendment is approved.

In 1962 the electorate approved an amendment extending to four years the terms of office of the governor and lieutenant governor, effective with the 1966 election.

National Trend

Throughout the nation there is a growing tendency to increase the terms of office of elected state officers. More than half of the states electing an attorney general or secretary of state now provide four-year terms for such officers.

The second of this trio of amendments, dealing with motor vehicle taxation, has two basic parts which will be discussed separately herein. Both affect Article VIII, Section 1.

The first part authorizes the Legislature to establish a separate class of motor vehicles consisting of those owned and held for resale by motor vehicle dealers and provides the Legislature shall determine how they are to be taxed.

Motor vehicle dealers presently pay taxes on the vehicles they have in stock assessment date on the same basis as individuals — according to the valuations set by the State Board of Equalization.

This means the dealers' motor vehicle inventories are valued for tax purposes at retail prices.

Book Value Basis

Most businesses in Nebraska, however, have their inventories assessed on the basis of book value — at the cost of manufacture or acquisition, rather than at retail price.

Since these vehicles represent the inventory of car dealers, proponents of the measure believe they should be taxed on the same basis as inventories are assessed for other businesses.

This proposed amendment does not spell out the method to be used, but authorizes the Legislature to make a change.

The second part of this proposed amendment authorizes the Legislature to establish a separate class for trucks, trailers, semitrailers, truck-tractors, or combinations thereof, consisting of those owned by residents and nonresidents of this state, and operating in interstate commerce, and to provide reciprocal and proportionate taxation of such vehicles.

If this amendment is adopted, it would enable the Legislature to enact a law providing for the proration of Nebraska property taxes on Nebraska owned and registered motor vehicles engaged in interstate commerce.

Commercial Vehicles

It also would permit the Legislature to make changes in the taxation of those commercial vehicles owned by non-residents but registered in Nebraska under our proration law.

Such non-residents currently must register a proportion of their fleets in Nebraska so that the total registration fees paid are at least equal to the amount of fees due under the proration program.

There has been evidence that some fleet owners often select equipment of low value to register in Nebraska and then register it in jurisdictions of extremely low mill levies.

If this amendment is approved, the Legislature could provide, for example, that such non-resident fleet owners would pay a tax based on the average mill levy of the state and have the revenue go into the state general fund.

Tax Exempt

The third of these amendments would change Article VIII, Section 2 of the constitution to exempt from all property taxes the total value of a home of a paraplegic or multiple amputee veteran where the home was substantially contributed by the Veterans Administration.

The exemption would last during the lifetime of the veteran or thereafter until the death of his widow or her remarriage.

These disabled veterans were allowed $10,000 toward construction of each of their homes by the VA. Many of the homes cost up to $15,000 to build and have increased in value since their construction.

Supporters of the amendment report that these veterans have found it difficult to pay the resulting increased taxes on their homes. Many are unemployed and their veterans' benefits and pensions have not kept pace with rising tax bills.

There are approximately 45 veterans in this category in Nebraska.

FCC: Chief's News Meet Comes Under Equal Time Law

Washington (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission says if broadcasters present President Johnson's news conferences in full they must grant equal air time to other presidential candidates.

The 4-3 ruling, announced Thursday, may be largely academic as far as Johnson is concerned since he has not held a news conference since he took office that has been carried in full on radio and television. And none has been so broadcast since he was nominated for the presidency in August.

But the decision, made in answer to a query by CBS, sets a pattern for future campaigns.

The majority said full broadcasts of the conferences, which usually last about 30 minutes, "would not constitute either a bona fide news interview or coverage of a bona fide news event." Those are the two exemptions to the equal-time law.

The ruling does not forbid use of portions of the news conferences on regular news broadcasts — the way in which the networks have been reporting most of the President's sessions with newsmen.

Commissioner Frederick W. Ford in a separate dissent expressed belief that a presidential news conference is, in fact, a major news event and thus exempt under the law.

Commissioner Lee Loevinger in his dissent said the majority finding violates "elementary canons of statutory construction, disregards commission precedents and is contrary to common sense."

Music news is covered thoroughly in the "Sunday Journal and Star."

Sen. Mansfield Urges Safety On 4 Candidates

Washington (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana urged the nation's top candidates Thursday to "avoid exposing themselves unnecessarily" to the danger of assassination.

Mansfield told the Senate that "much of the responsibility rests with the President and the candidates themselves," and said:

"I strongly urge all of them in the interests of the nation to follow the procedures designed to provide for their safety, even if at times it means leaving a few hands unshaken or some autograph books unsigned."

Mansfield spoke after President Johnson met with members of a special committee he appointed to appraise the report of the Warren Commission on President John F. Kennedy's assassination.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, a member of the committee, told reporters after Wednesday's White House session that Johnson feels he has a right to mingle with crowds and does not believe he is risking his safety in doing so.

Johnson underscored this during a speaking trip to Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore Thursday. On leaving he passed up his waiting limousine and walked about 300 yards along a driveway lined with people, shaking hands as he went.

At one point he stopped to pick up a baby girl and hold her for photographers.

Mansfield noted that a political campaign requires that the major candidates "present themselves in person throughout the nation," but he said the Warren Commission found that precautions can and should be taken.

China Brags About Science Prowess

Tokyo (AP)—Communist China celebrated Thursday the 15th anniversary of its founding, praising new developments in science which it said "eloquently proved that the Chinese people are fully capable of scaling the world's summits in science and technology."

But the Chinese did not mention the atom bomb nor apparently choose to set off a nuclear device, which some had speculated might be done to spice the anniversary.

Peking's Mayor Peng Chen, in the keynote speech of the day as reported by the New China News Agency in a broadcast monitored here, declared:

"A powerful industrial system based on self-reliance has been built up, and new great leaps forward have been achieved in the scale of construction, in the raising of technical levels, in the manufacture of complete sets of equipment and in the securing of greater variety and higher quality of products.

"The stable and flourishing market is by itself a graphic expression of the leap in agricultural and industrial production.

"The new developments in culture, education and science have eloquently proved that the Chinese people and fully capable of scaling the world's summits in science and technology."

The Peking mayor, however, did not spell out what the achievements were.

Miller Hits Poverty War 'Socialism'

Reno (AP)—President Johnson's "war on poverty" was assailed by the Republican vice presidential nominee Thursday as "a socialistic approach . . . a cruel hoax" with the sole purpose being an attempt to "buy votes for Lyndon Johnson with the taxpayers' money."

"The President is trying to kill a giant problem with 'a political pop-gun,' " Rep. William E. Miller said of the program being hailed by Democrats as a major achievement for the national administration.

"The Johnson anti-poverty program is nothing more than a thin retread of some of the programs Franklin Roosevelt started in 1933," Miller said, "and those programs never solved the depression."

In his opening remarks to the Reno rally, held before the pink stone state building, Miller said he had heard that Johnson had been endorsed by Norman Thomas, the veteran Socialist leader. "That's fine by me," Miller said.

He also referred to Thomas in the statement attacking the war on poverty. Miller quoted a news article in which Thomas was quoted as saying that the "war on poverty is a socialistic approach."

"Now that is one endorsement of the so-called anti-poverty program with which I can agree," Miller said.

"But the war on poverty is worse than a socialistic approach to a legitimate problem," Miller said. "It is a cruel hoax on the American people, put into effect two months before the election, not with any thought of correcting poverty, but only to buy votes for Lyndon Johnson with the taxpayers' money."

P St. Sewer Job Bidding Date Set

Acting Mayor John Comstock Thursday authorized a call for Oct. 28 bidding for construction of the P Street sanitary sewer lift station and connecting trunks.

The project, located near P and Salt Creek, will eliminate the present discharge of untreated sewage into the channel.

The estimated $50,000 project was authorized in the 1964-65 capital improvement program by the City Council.

CHATTER — in the — CORRIDOR

BY ANDREA GRAINGER

Judging from the looks of things many Southeast Knights are discovering that they are out of condition for the extra long midnight-oil burning season this year. But these flabby people don't have to worry, they have until June to shape up.

Seriously, we do realize homework is a necessary and unavoidable evil of education.

This year Southeast is happy to host two A.F.S. foreign exchange students, Pesanon Sukhatsathiam ("Peppy" for short from Thailand, and Denise Mostert of the Union of South Africa.

Peppy lives in the city of Utaradit where her father is a veterinarian. She is the youngest of six children, including two brothers and three sisters. Peppy likes Southeast but she sometimes finds the teachers difficult to understand.

At home in Thailand she attends a small boarding school of about 500 students. In her school some of the classes change every hour as we do but other classes stay in the same room and a different teacher comes in.

Peppy likes American people because they are friendly and she is very happy with her American family.

Denise also attends a boarding school but she thoroughly enjoys American schools, especially the lack of many hard and fast rules. She thinks that Southeast pupils are orderly and do very well disciplining themselves.

The South African school where she studies is patterned after the English schools· In addition to the mandatory uniform the girls must walk single file in the halls and they stay with the same class, or form, all day. Talking in the halls between classes is also prohibited and prefects with badges are stationed to enforce the rules. A form captain sees that in the classroom the girls are quiet and is also responsible for checking the attendance.

At 6:30 o'clock in the morning, during the school year, a bell rings and Denise and her classmates get up to prepare for a seven-period day which lasts from 8 o'clock in the morning to 1:30 o'clock without a break —and in the afternoon more classes. In the evening a proctor supervises the study periods for the girls in grades eight to 11, and for senors there is a private study for each two girls.

Dear Abby

Stop Nagging Him. It Won't Help

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My Julius is the only man in our crowd who doesn't dance. He never learned, and he won't even try. He just says he doesn't have any rhythm. I told him I didn't care whether he had rhythm or not, I only wanted him to get out on the dance floor and walk around with me so I wouldn't have to sit and watch everyone else dance. Nothing can budge him. He's not old. He is 42. He says I knew he wasn't Gene Kelly when I married him. Don't you think if he really loved me he would try?

JULIUS'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: His "love" for you has nothing to do with his refusal to dance. Get off his back and you might have a better chance of getting him on his feet.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 years old and am considered responsible and well-behaved by everyone but my mother. She doesn't trust me where boys are concerned. She says that I am too young to have anything to do with boys. I have been asked for dates by several nice boys, but I have had to refuse every one of them because of my mother's strictness. My father is no help because he doesn't believe in taking sides. Can you help me?

BABIED

DEAR BABIED: Your mother should be talked to by someone whose judgment she respects. In my opinion if you are considered a well-haved, responsible girl, you should certainly be allowed to date. Girls who have been denied the experiences of dating go wild when they get their first taste of freedom. Your mother may mean well, but she is doing you far more harm than good.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a father who picks on his 16-year-old son so much that the boy would rather be anywhere but home? That's my problem. He is a good boy, Abby, and he's never given us any trouble, but his father is constantly picking on him for something. I think I know why, too. My husband is bald and our son has a beautiful head of blond wavy hair. The boy goes to the barber shop every week without fail, and keeps his hair washed and combed at all times. I just know that every time my husband looks at the boy he gets mad because he is so envious. Our son is a good student and he wanted to go to college. But now he can't wait to join the service to get away from his father. What should I do?

HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Wait until your husband is in a good mood and then have a heart-to-heart talk with him. Don't attempt to reform him overnight with your amateur analysis (you could be wrong), but do prevail upon him to exercise a little more patience with the boy.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: When a 16-year-old girl goes for a ride in a car with a boy, how close should she sit to him?

CRITICIZED

* * *

DEAR CRITICIZED: Close enough to talk—but not close enough to be talked about.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed enevelope.

Alumnae Plan Sunday Tea

The alumnae of Sigma Alpha Iota, national music fraternity for women, will meet Sunday afternoon for a 2 o'clock to 4 o'clock at Gateway Manor penthouse.

Bridge

Bridge Quiz Day

B. Jay Becker

TEST YOUR PLAY

1. You are declarer with the West hand at Three Notrump. North leads the jack of clubs on which South plays the seven. How would you play the hand?

♠J953 ♥42 ♦AQJ6 ♣A82 | N W E S | ♠AK2 ♥KJ1095 ♦K1073 ♣K

2. You are declarer with the West hand at Four Hearts. North leads the A-K-Q of diamonds, South following suit. How would you play the hand?

♠AK8 ♥AKQ105 ♦J4 ♣Q93 | N W E S | ♠6432 ♥96 ♦952 ♣AKJ10

1. You start with eight sure tricks and the only problem is how to go about trying to get the ninth. Two main lines of play are possible. One is to come to your hand with a diamond and lead a heart towards dummy. If North follows low, you have to decide whether to play the nine or king from dummy. Mathematically, all you have is about a 50% chance of guessing right.

The other line of play is to attack spades instead of hearts in an effort to obtain the ninth trick. You start by cashing the A-K. If the ten or queen appears, you are now certain of making the contract by continuing with a spade. If neither of these cards appears, you still make three notrump by leading another spade, unless it develops that North started with Q-10-x-x of spades.

Of the two lines of play, by far the better one is to attack spades. You have about an 85% chance of developing an extra spade trick before you start to lead the suit. Even if it turns out that both opponents follow low on the A-K, you still have about a 4 to 1 chance of establishing a third spade trick by continuing with a spade from dummy.

2. Ruff the third diamond and lead the ten of hearts! This strange play comes very close to insuring the contract. If you cashed the A-K-Q of hearts instead, hoping to find the trumps divided 3-3 or to drop the doubleton jack, you would very likely go down if it turned out that either opponent had the J-x-x-x of trumps and a shortage in clubs.

By playing the ten of hearts first, you retain control of the hand. The opponent who takes the ten with the jack cannot profitably return a diamond, since it can be ruffed in dummy. Whatever else he returns, you draw trumps with the A-K-Q and still make the contract if the trumps are divided either 3-3 or 4-2.

MIRACLES IN A BOTTLE

A few short years ago, the medicines in the prescriptions we compound every day would have been called miracles. Now, they're quite ordinary — but we don't treat them that way at Gilmour-Danielson. Every prescription, no matter how commonplace the medicine it contains, is prepared with painstaking care. Never for one instant do we relax the trust which you and your doctor put in us.

The Days Are Never Dull In Suburbia

MEADOW LANE

We are beginning to believe that maybe this could be March instead of October—at least all the symptoms point that way.

First we have the balmy temperatures which just could be, even with yesterday's wind, the lull before the storm.

Suburban residents in Meadow Lane also are working up to a storm as far as the weekend activity is concerned. They seem to be extra busy with guests, committee meetings, and travels.

Miss Stephanie Sommerville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sommerville, was honored on Wednesday afternoon at a birthday celebration at Bethany Park.

Stephanie, who was celebrating her fourth anniversary, had as her guests, Doug and Danny Kitrell, Doug Kaelin, and Jeff Beckenbach who enjoyed an afternoon at the park plus the traditional ice cream and cake.

Taking advantage of the cool autumn weather last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Fleck and their children, Mike and Elizabeth.

They departed Lincoln on Saturday for Geneva where they were the guests of Mrs. Fleck's mother, Mrs. Mary Clark.

On Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Fleck and their children; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Clark and family; and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Clark motored to Davenport, where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Livings. We might add that the visit to Davenport was in celebration of Mrs. Livings' birthday.

The Rev. and Mrs. Carl Burkhardt were off and away on Wednesday—bound for Detroit, Mich. In Detroit they are attending the International Convention of the Disciples of Christ Churches.

The Rev. and Mrs. Burkhardt will be in Detroit until Oct. 9.

Brainard will be the destination this coming Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kucera and their sons, Conald, Terry, and Gerard, who will be visiting with Mrs. Kucera's brother, Joe Dvorak. The Kucera family will be returning home Sunday evening.

Prior to their trip to Brainard — or, as far as Terry is concerned — there is a matter of a camping trip which will begin today.

Terry, along with the other Boy Scouts in Troop 78, will be camping in the great outdoors until Sunday morning.

There is a new arrival at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clandy Woolman — a daughter, Debra Marie, who made her debut Sept. 19, at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

EASTMONT

Arriving this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hamilton and their children, Kim and Kent, will be Mr. Hamilton's mother, Mrs. T. A. Hamilton of Norfolk.

Tonight, Mrs. T. A. Hamilton will be initiated into the Daughters of the Nile, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hamilton will attend the reception following the ceremony.

Mrs. Hamilton will then remain in Lincoln until Sunday evening.

PARK MANOR

Returning from Washington, D.C., were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gruhn and their children, Steve and Barbara, spent several days touring the city. Mr. Gruhn's original incentive was a business trip, but the rest of the Gruhn family accompanied him for pure pleasure.

COTNER TERRACE

There has been a busy schedule of events at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Keefe and their children, Lyne, Robert, Kathleen, Mark, John, Daniela, and Dortha. The activities began last weekend, when Mr. O'Keefe's niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Ellis of Sioux City, Iowa, were visiting at the O'Keefe home.

A new home at 5010 Judson will occupy most of their time in the near future since Mr. and Mrs. O'Keefe and their family plan to move there in two weeks.

Mrs. James Grabowski was hostess for a baby shower honoring Mrs. John Gandara. The courtesy was held at the home of Mrs. Grabowski's mother-in-law, Mrs. C. J. Grabowski, and 17 guests attended the shower.

Guests In Lincoln

Tuesday-to-Friday visitors in Lincoln are Mrs. Walter G. McBride and her daughter, Michelle, who with Mr. McBride are the houseguests of Mr. McBride's grandmother, Mrs. Guy Drummet.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McBride of St. Louis, former Lincoln residents, Mr. McBride is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma and recently completed service with the Marine Corps. The visitors leave today to return home to St. Louis.

BRIDES

One of the popular brides-elect of the autumn season has been Miss Judy Imlay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Imlay, who will become the bride of Maurice Monte Moser on Saturday, Oct. 3.

Concluding the long series of courtesies honoring the soon-to-be bride was the mother-daughter party for which Mrs. Paul Thorough and her daughter, Miss Jean Thorough, were hostesses Tuesday evening. During the informal dessert, a personal shower was presented to the honoree.

The wedding of Miss Imlay and Mr. Moser will take place at a high-noon ceremony to be solemnized at St. Teresa's Church.

Honored at several courtesies in recent weeks has been Miss Barbara Sieck, whose betrothal to Frank A. Vert of Flint, Mich., was revealed last summer.

Honoring Miss Sieck at a shower recently were Mrs. Mervin Zillig and her daughter, Miss Nancy Zillig, who entertained a group of guests at their home in Seward on Saturday evening, Sept. 19.

The wedding of Miss Sieck, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Sieck of Pleasant Dale, and Mr. Vert will take place at a 6:30 o'clock evening service, Saturday, Oct. 10, at St. Paul's American Lutheran Church in Seward.

October bride-elect, Miss Joyce Y-onne Tipton, has been the honoree at several bridal courtesies recently preceding her marriage to Norman John Peterson on Friday, Oct. 9.

Honoring the bride-to-be, Mrs. Otto Frauen of Valentine, was hostess to a group of guests on Saturday, Sept. 19, at a brunch and miscellaneous shower.

Miss Tipton has announced that her wedding will take place at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, and the service will be solemnized at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Tipton.

DAR Dinner

Mrs. Peter Alexander will be hostess to the members of St. Leger Cowley Chapter, DAR, Tuesday evening at a 6:15 o'clock dinner.

The program, "The Constitution: Yesterday And Today", will be given by Mrs. John M. Gradwohl, and assisting hostesses will be Mrs. R. B. McCandless, Mrs. E. A. Wing, Mrs. E. H. Danekas, Mrs. Lloyd A. McCoy and Mrs. Harry M. Smith.

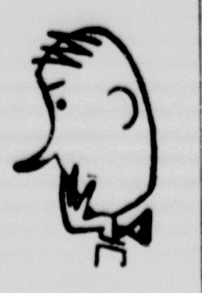
JOURNAL-STAR WANT ADS BRING RESULTS—477-8902

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

What happened in those lazy, hazy, crazy days of summer? The autumn days are now upon us. Football, hot dogs and baton twirlers.



The Marquess of Bath threw a bash at her castle in England.

She gave a concert by Heinz and the Wild Ones — a kind of Beatle group.

Twenty-two girls in the audience fainted. And 10 cupcakes were thrown in the swimming pool.

That's nothing. At a previous concert with the Rolling Stones, 200 girls fainted!

☆ ☆ ☆

Whatever happened to smelling salts? My grandma always carried a little bottle of smelling salts in her purse.

All ladies carried them. When they felt faint, out with the bottle and—whiff.

I took a sniff at it once. It made you go up the wall like a cat. Powerful stuff.

☆ ☆ ☆

In Gorazde—you never heard of Gorazde? I know, I know. Nobody gets enough time to read these days.

Anyway, in Gorazde, in Yugoslavia, a new bridegroom is tied to a spit near a roasting fire. He will be turned into barbecue unless—

His new mama-in-law must rush from the house and put up enough chow for all the neighbors. They then turn the kid loose. And a good time is had by all.

The trouble with these stories is they should say what happens if the mother-in-law is out of groceries. And it is Sunday and the supermarket is closed.

☆ ☆ ☆

Here is Arthur Arch of Coventry, England. He is 95 and was not behind the door when the brains were passed out.

In 1922, Coventry clocks were set ahead 20 minutes to conform with new national standards. Everybody just set the clocks up 20 minutes. But not Arthur. No, sir. Not Arthur Arch.

"Nobody is going to take 20 minutes off my life," said Arthur firmly.

He has kept his watch and household clocks 20 minutes behind for the last 42 years.

☆ ☆ ☆

Says the British Medical Association — (or some rat-fink impersonating them):

"Biologically speaking, there is no real need for such a large number of males in the population as we have today.

They said bee hives have only a few males. They sit around doing nothing. That's the life!

If there are no males around, who is going to open anchovy cans when the key has twisted it half open and broken off?

Let some smart scientific bloke answer me that.

Summer was not bad around our scatter. I put mint and parsley in the window box. The mint came up like a bomb. But I must have watered the parsley too much. It turned yellow.

However, you cannot make mint juleps with parsley. Hallelujah!

☆ ☆ ☆

You know Flopsy, Mopsy and Cottontail? Well, the reason Flopsy was that way was he wasn't getting enough protein or minerals.

I read that in a pet magazine. It can be cured by feeding the rabbit a rabbit pellet. Which, presumably, is full of ear stiffener.

Or you can put a little support tower on the rabbit's head. Tie his ears up like a tomato vine. (I would give such a flopsy rabbit his lumps. Tell him: "Shape up or ship out!")

☆ ☆ ☆

Thus the summer ends. I looked up a little poem about summer's end. But it was full of something about "stooks arise." I had to look it up—they are "unthreshed grain."

We don't quote any summer stuff here we have to look up. Not THIS summer anyway.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. Conference Action Opens

The Big Eight Conference, its pride wounded somewhat by what non-conference bullies have done in the past two weeks, moves back into its own little circle this week and away from those nasty teams from both coasts.

Six league teams are involved in conference games with only Kansas playing an outsider — Wyoming — while Oklahoma has an open date to restore its bruises and injured feelings after the 40-14 loss to Southern Cal.

Only Nebraska managed to survive the first two weeks without a bloody nose and it took a courageous comeback for the defending champions to escape the same fate suffered by its neighbors.

The Nebraska-Iowa State tussle at Ames figures to be the key Big Eight game despite the Cyclones' loss last week to Oklahoma State. The game is a must for coach Clay Stapleton's squad. Another loss would eliminate them from the championship picture.

It is also a vital encounter for the Cornhuskers since a loss this early would make defense of the championship much more difficult with games against Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma still to go.

But while Iowa State and Nebraska figure to attract the most attention, eyes also will be turned toward Columbia, Mo., where Okalhoma State meets Missouri in a game that could tell whether last week's win over Iowa State was a fluke for the Cowboys or whether Phil Cutchin's rebuilding program at Stillwater is ahead of schedule.

After slipping to a .670 percentage last week on 37 right, 18 wrong and one tie for a season mark of 71 right, 31 wrong and three ties for a .690 percentage, we're almost afraid to pick this week. But the Phillies played out their schedule, so here goes:

Big Eight

NEBRASKA 27, Iowa State 21 . . . Don't be fooled by the Cyclones' showing last week. It'll be another squeaker for the Huskers, but NU fans are practically immune to scary events these days. And remember, if you're driving over Saturday morning, game time is 12:30 Nebraska time.

MISSOURI 24, Oklahoma State 7 . . . The Cowboys can't do it two weeks in a row and it's about time Gary Lane and Johnny Roland teamed up to really pour it on someone.

COLORADO 14, Kansas State 7 . . . After last week's Oklahoma State win, this one is likely to decide the Big Eight cellar resident. And it's likely to be Kansas State again, a team that knows its way around down in the dark dungeon.

KANSAS 28, Wyoming 21 . . . Wyoming is unbeaten, but Gale Sayers is about due for a big day and Jayhawk coach Jack Mitchell may have shaken things up just enough to get a win this week.

NCC Teams Eye Week-end Battles

By TOM HENDERSON
Star Sports Writer

All six members of the Nebraska College Conference play games against conference opponents this weekend, as the Nebraska Small college football season enters its fourth week.

The Kearney Antelopes, last season's champions, will battle Wayne, Hastings College will travel to Crete to test Doane, and Chadron will face Peru at Peru in Saturday night action.

The Antelopes started the season on a sour note, losing to Fort Hays (Kan.) State, 35-14. But coach Allen Zikmund's squad shook off the setback and now has won two straight with last Saturday's 18-0 victory over Colorado State College included.

Sensational passing by quarterback Neil Kaup and rugged defensive play gave Kearney the victory.

Kaup connected on 20 passes in 27 tries, one of them a 44-yard scoring toss to Bill Backes in the fourth quarter.

Wayne opened the season with a 46-0 rout of St. Mary (Kan.) of the Plains, but was stymied the next weekend, 18-0, by Northwest Missouri State.

The Wildcats took a week's vacation and should be fresh for the meeting with the Antelopes.

Coach John Jermier relies heavily on the running of fullback Burt Matthies and the passing of quarterback Dean deBuhr.

Matthies scored a touchdown and added four extra points in the Wildcats' victory over St. Mary. deBuhr ran for two TD's and passed for another in the win.

The Hastings College Broncos meet Doane in another Saturday night contest. The meeting doubles as a NCC and Great Plains Association clash for the teams.

Hastings romped to a convincing 21-12 victory over GPA foe Colorado College last Saturday night, while Doane was the victim of a last quarter surge by Tarkio, Mo., losing it's second game in a row, 19-13.

New Bronco mentor, Dean Pryor, off to a fast start in his first season at Hastings, with a 2-0 record, spent the week working on pass defense. The Hastings squad have allowed 230 yards in passing in two games this season, and Doane is expected to take to the air quite a bit.

Veteran Doane signal-caller Terry Discoe, has plenty of experience and several good pass receivers including John Hood.

Fullback Jack Giddings was singled out by Pryor for his outstanding defensive play and his 40-yard touchdown run.

Doane's only victory to date is a 12-6 decision over Yankton College of South Dakota.

The Tigers have lost two so far this year.

Concordia looks for its second straight Tri-State Conference victory this week after a 15-13 decision over defending champion Midland last weekend.

The Bulldogs meet Sioux Falls, S. D. in Seward, and will be trying to make it No. 3 in a row for the season.

Concordia took the victory over Midland last Saturday night on the strength of a safety, as Midland's Kent Wallace, in the end zone to punt was called for intentional grounding when the pass from center got away from him and he threw the ball away.

The Bulldogs opened the season with a 12-0 win over Colorado College.

In other action Saturday Midland entertains Dana in a Tri-State tilt, Nebraska Wesleyan travels to Dodge City, Kan. to face St. Mary of the Plains, Omaha University, fresh from a 26-20 victory over Northern Illinois, invades the Morningside campus in Iowa, McCook JC starts defense of its 4-JC Conference title against Scottsbluff JC in Scottsbluff, and Norfolk invades Iowa to square off against Ellsworth College.

Friday Fairury JC will meet Wentworth (Mo.) Military Academy.

SILAS RETURNS TO OMAHA

Two faces familiar to Nebraska area cage fans will be in the lineup for the St. Louis Hawks when they meet the defending NBA champion Boston Celtics at 8 p.m. Oct. 8 in Omaha's Civic Auditorium. Paul Silas (pictured above), former Creighton standout who led the nation's rebounders for three years, and Bill Bridges, former Kansas star, will be in the St. Louis lineup.

NY Pennant Drive Delayed By Detroit

Tigers Take Pair From AL Leader

. . . MAGIC NUMBER STILL 2

New York (AP)—The New York Yankees, needing only two wins to clinch their 29th American League pennant, lost their first doubleheader of the season Thursday, bowing to Detroit 4-2 and 5-2 Denny McLain, a 20-year-old righthander went all the way in the second with a six-hitter.

The double defeat cut the Yanks' lead over the idle Chicago White Sox to 2½ games. New York has three to play and Chicago four. The White Sox resume Friday night with a twinight doubleheader against Kansas City. The Yanks play Cleveland in one game Friday night.

Baltimore, with only a chance to tie by winning all its three remaining games while the Yanks lose their three, met Washington in a night game.

Rookie Mel Stottemyre, who took a 2-1 lead into the ninth inning, was the victim in the opener, won by Mickey Lolich on relief. Gates Browns' single with the bases loaded scored two and Don Wert's sacrifice fly knocked in the third run of the inning.

It was Brown again in the second game scoring two of the three runs off loser Rollie Sheldon. A wild pitch by Sheldon permitted Brown to score in the second inning. Wert triple, following Brown's second straight single produced the first of two Tiger runs in the fourth. Bill Freehan's double drove in Wert.

Bobby Richardson's triple and Mickey Mantel's sacrifice fly gave the Yanks their first run off McLain in the fourth. Tom Tresh's ground rule double and Johnny Blanchard's pinch single added another run in the fifth.

Detroit put the game beyond reach with two more in the ninth off Bill Stafford with Dick McAuliffe's double and McLain's single the big blows.

It was the third complete game in 16 starts for McLain, who has 4-5 record.

The Yanks had swept 12 previous doubleheaders and had split eight. This was their first double defeat.

Without depending on any Chicago defeats, the Yanks must win two of their last three games with the Indians to clinch.

The last doubleheader New York lost was June 2, 1963, against Cleveland. The Yankees had a 17 win and 15 split record since then.

Devaney Rates Cyclone Engagement As Tossup

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Nebraska football coach Bob Devaney disagreed slightly with the nation's bookmakers Thursday regarding his club's Saturday engagement with Iowa State at Ames.

"I think the game should be rated a tossup since Iowa State has (Tom))Vaughn back in shape and they apparently are at full strength," Devaney said.

The Huskers have been established as 7½ point favorites for the opening Big Eight test for the defending champs.

Vaughn is Iowa State's leading ball carrier. He was hurt against Oklahoma State with the score tied and the Cowboys then took over to win, 29-14.

Tony Jeter's status was still doubtful Thursday night and Devaney noted that they planned to wait until the last possible moment before making the decision on whether the junior end will make the trip.

Should Jeter not be ready to go when the team leaves today, Larry Casey would take his place on the 36-man traveling squad.

"He (Jeter) looked a little better today (Thursday), but he's still not at full speed and we won't take him unless he can help us," Devaney explained.

The 36-man traveling squad limit set by the conference for league games caused several tough decisions for the NU coaching staff.

"We are leaving several players home that we would like to have taken," Devaney noted.

Among the players who may have been of help against the Cyclones but had to be left in Lincoln because of the 36-man limit were ends Preston Love and Bill Haug, halfbacks Ken Brunk and Kaye Carstens, centers Bob Hill and Harry Tuthill and guard Tim Shoda.

The traveling squad includes three players at each position except quarterback, left halfback and fullback where four players are traveling at each position.

The traveling squad for the Ames trip:

QB—Fred Duda, Bob Churchich, Larry Wachholtz, Doug Tucker.
LH—Kent McCloughan, Maynard Smidt, Bill Johnson, Ron Kirkland.
RH—Bob Hohn, Harry Wilson, Ted Vactor.
FB—Bruce Smith, Frank Solich, Joe McNulty, Pete Tatman.
LE—Freeman, White, Mike Grace, John Koinzan.
LT—Larry Kramer, John Strohmyer, Jim Brown.
LG—John Dervin, LaVerne Allers, Mike Kennedy.
C—Lyle Sittler, Duncan Drum, Walt Barnes.
RG—Ron Griesse, Bernie McGinn, Lynn Senkbeil.
RT—Dennis Carlson, Richard Czap, Gary Brichacek.
RE—Chuck Doepke, Langston Coleman, Larry Casey or Tony Jeter.

No Charter

The Husker football team will fly commercial planes to Des Moines since a charter flight could not be obtained.

The squad will go by bus to Ames and will be quartered at the Holiday Inn there.

The team is slated to eat in Des Moines folowing the game and return to Lincoln Saturday night.

5 Huskers Nominated

Five Nebraska gridders are among 41 scholar-athletes who have ben nominated for this year's all-conference academic team, Wayne Duke, executive director, announced Thursday.

The Huskers are ends Bill Haug and Chuck Doepke, halfbacks Kent McCloughan and Bob Hohn and fullback Bruce Smith.

Murtaugh Resigns Buc Post

Cincinnati (AP)—Joe L. Brown, general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, said Thursday he will move as quickly as possible to get the best man available to succeed Danny Murtaugh as manager of the Bucs.

The 47-year-old Murtaugh announced Wednesday night—actually it was early Thursday—that he is quitting as manager because of his health but will remain with the Pirates in an administrative capacity.

Murtaugh said Thursday he will accompany the club to Milwaukee for the final series of the season although he previously said he might not even do that.

The Pirates wound up a series with the pennant-minded Cincinnati Reds Thursday night and they already have beaten the Reds twice.

"We have no candidate to succeed Murtaugh and no names to announce," Brown said. "We have been thinking about it and we will pick the best man available but it is going to be difficult to replace Danny."

Murtaugh has managed the Pirates since 1957 and in 1960 his team won the National League pennant and then beat the New York Yankees in a thrilling seven-game World Series.

In his active playing days he was with Philadelphia, the old Boston Braves and Pittsburgh. He also managed at New Orleans in the Southern Association and Charleston in the American Association. He is a native of Chester, Pa.

His current Pirate team is running sixth in the National League with no chance of getting into the first division.

In the clubhouse announcement of his resignation, Murtaugh said, "My health has not been up to par.

Northeast Rockets Put Streaks On Line Friday

. . . 'GAME OF THE YEAR'

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Top-rated Lincoln Northeast puts three streaks on the line as it tangles with Lincoln High in the Capital City's "game of the year" at Seacrest Field Friday night.

Art Bauer's Rockets will be out to add to (1) their 15-game winning streak, longest in Class A competition; (2) a string of three straight shutouts and (3) a three-year winning skein against the Links.

This year's battle shapes up as a match between the immovable object and the irresistible force, the immovable object in this case being Northeast's sparkling defensive crew and the irresistible force being Lincoln High's strong offensive club.

The Rockets reached their peak on defense against outmanned Omaha Beveridge last week, allowing just one first down and holding the invaders to a net 13 yards in a 61-0 rout.

Lincoln High, boasting a bevy of quick backs, has displayed one of the best ground games in the state. The Links are averaging over 300 yards rushing and are scoring at a four touchdowns a game clip after three starts.

The loss of leading ball carrier Henry Jackson figures to put a dent in the Lincoln High bid, however. The junior scatback is out for three weeks with a broken bone in his wrist. But coach Jim Sommers has an experienced replacement in Lonnie TeSelle, who has a little more speed than Jackson.

Northeast coach Art Bauer has a similar situation with halfback Tom Thompson being a doubtful performer. But Bryce Doebele stepped in with an impressive performance last week and the Rockets will have plenty of firepower in the backfield, too.

The Seacrest Field spectacular is just one of four Class A battles of major importance Friday night. Unbeaten Omaha Benson faces comeback-minded Creighton Prep, which had its winning streak snapped at 18 last week by Omaha Westside.

Boys Town and Tech meet in another Omaha headliner. The big one outstate sends unbeaten Columbus against a Grand Island squad (2-1) which appears to be jelling after an opening loss.

This week's forecast:

Northeast v. Lincoln High at Seacrest Field—Their spotless defensive record is endangered, but Rockets get the call in the feature of the Lincoln prep football season.

Sioux City Heelan at Pius X—Invaders have never lost in their series with the Thunderbolts. In an upset special, take the Pius X club.

Fremont v. Southeast at Seacrest Field (Sat.)—Knights started to click last week, but may not have enough to handle Fremont.

Creighton Prep at Omaha Benson—Benson riding high, but Junior Jays will come storming back after losing to Westside.

Boys Town at Omaha Tech—Skip Palrang's Cowboys have one win under their belts now and this one makes two.

Columbus at Grand Island—This one determines Fremont's challenger in the East Big Ten race. Grand Island is always tough on the Discoverers and gets the nod over the unbeaten team.

Beatrice at Fairbury—Orangemen have more firepower.

Crete at Nebraska City—Pioneers out to make amends for last year's 33-0 setback, but Crete still has the edge.

Other games (selections in boldface):

Antelope Hunters 68.4% Successful

Nebraska antelope hunters scored a 68.4% success in the three-day hunt in the Sand Hills last weekend, the Game Commission reported Thursday.

The success score was described as exceptional.

Bucks only could be hunted, and it was necessary that the auvvals have horns longer than their ears.

Technicians had been expecting a kill of only about 40 or 50 per cent.

In the Rock unit, gunners took 91 pronghorns for a 60.6% success. In the Cherry unit, riflemen took 114 animals for a 76% success score.

Twelve tagged antelope were checked in. Distance traveled by these animals from point of release to the area taken ranged from 5 to 35 miles.

Trans-Nebraska Conference Garners Seal Of Approval

Hastings (UPI)—The constitution for a new six-team high school athletic league, the Trans-Nebraska Conference, has been approved, it was announced Thursday by Tom Keating, Hastings High School principal.

Charter members of the new conference are Lincoln Southeast, Lincoln Northeast, Lincoln High, North Platte, Grand Island and Hastings. The constitution includes a provision to add the proposed Lincoln East which is to be constructed soon.

The league's first official function will be a cross country meet Oct. 10 at Lincoln.

Wrestling, swimming and gymnastic meets will also be held at Lincoln Jan. 29. The golf, track and tennis meets will be held April 30 at a site still to be selected.

Official league play in football and basketball will begin during the 1965-66 school year.

The constitution provides for an executive board, made up of the principals of the member schools, and a board of control, with the athletic directors representing their schools.

The constitution provides for a rotation of the chairmen of the two groups. The initial chairman of each board will be Dr. E. E. Miller of Grand Island, who is principal and athletic director there. H. V. Taylor of Lincoln Northeast will be the first secretary of the executive board. The secretary-treasurer of the board of control will be chosen at the next Trans-Nebraska meeting in November.

OSU's Jacobson Merits Associated Press Award

. . . LINEMAN OF THE WEEK

By Associated Press

Jack Jacobson of Oklahoma State, once an all-state high school center with bad knees and later a defensive back at OSU, has become one of the Big Eight's top ends. He is the Lineman of the Week.

"I guess I just made all-state because my Dad C. E. Jacobson of Ardmore was the coach," Jacobson said. "I strengthened my knees with an exercise program recommended by our family doctor in my hometown. In most cases, I suppose an operation would have been called for."

The 6-foot-2 196-pound senior was a second team All-Big Eight choice last fall in his first season as an end. He was a defensive back as a sophomore. When Phil Cutchin took over he asked the players what position they would like to play.

"I chose end because I was not big enough for the interior line and not fast enough for the backfield, but I had good hands to catch the ball," he said. Cutchin watched Jack turn in a second straight outstanding game against Iowa State, then asserted "he can play for any team in the country —I mean any team."

He was in on 13 tackles, intercepted a pass to set up one touchdown, caught a pass to set up another and made a diving catch to keep a third scoring drive alive. Linebacker Carl McAdams of Oklahoma and tackle Jerry Crump- a panel of sports writers. Other nominees were Larry Kramer of Nebraska, linebacker Tom Monczka of Colorado and linebacker John Garber of Kansas.

McAdams, fast establishing himself as Ou's top lineman, made nine unassisted tackles and was in on nine more. Crumpler blocked out two men in Gary Lane's 67-yard scoring run, recovered a fumble and stabilized the Tiger line.

Garber made KU's only three unassisted tackles, was in on seven more, intercepted a pass and lateraled to Dave Crandall, who ran 16 yards after Garber's good block. Kramer was a standout on pass protection from Fred Duda. Monczka's defensive play was strong all day.

Dodgers Release Durocher

Los Angeles — The Los Angeles Dodgers announced Thursday that they are releasing Leo Durocher and their other three coaches and that Jim Gilliam will be one of the replacements, becoming the club's first Negro coach.

General Manager Buzzie Bavasi said Durocher asked for his release "so he could accept a major league managing job." Bavasi didn't say with whom. Neither did Durocher.

Out with Leo are Pete Reiser, Joe Becker and Greg Mulleavy

In with Gilliam as Manager Walter Alston's new assistants are Danny Ozark, who managed the Dodger farm club at Spokane, Wash., this season; Preston Gomez, who managed at Richmond, Va., and Harold Lefty Phillips, a Dodger scout. The changes take effect next season.

Kansas City Mentor Quits

Kansas City (AP) — Jimmie Dykes, veteran coach of the Kansas City Athletics, has resigned.

Dykes, third base coach who is in his 48th year of professional baseball, said Thursday that he had signed as coach under Ed Lopat. He felt he should, in justice to Mel McGaha, the current manager, step out of the picture. June 12.

Dykes said he was not sure about his future in baseball. He joined Kansas City as coach last year.

The 67-year-old Dykes, one of baseball's most popular figures, broke into baseball with Gettysburg of the Blue Ridge League in 1917 and was a long-time infielder with the Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago White Sox.

He has managed the White Sox, Philadelphia A's, Baltimore Orioles, Cincinnati Reds, Detroit Tigers and Cleveland Indians and has coached for several clubs.

Baltimore Keeps Bauer

Baltimore (AP)—A two-year contract providing for about $5,000 more in salary a year is the reward Hank Bauer received Thursday for making the Baltimore Orioles pennant contenders in the American League.

"This is the best contract I've had in all my years in baseball," Bauer said after his rehiring was announced by Lee MacPhail, Oriole president.

"I'm very well satisfied. I didn't do too much dickering because I thought I got what I was entitled to."

In his debut as Oriole manager this season, Bauer was paid just under $30,000.

"I think Hank has done an outstanding job this year, and he has been given a substantial increase," MacPhail said.

"Hank has gotten the most out of the club. He has had everybody playing to the limit of his ability. When that happens, it has to be to the credit of the manager. There was never any question about his contract being renewed."

High School Gridder Dies Of Injuries

Omaha (AP)— Robert Williams 14-year-old freshman in Nebraska City High School, died in an Omaha hospital Wednesday night after suffering an injury in a freshman football game, Sept. 24.

The game was played in Nebraska City between Falls City and Nebraska City freshman teams.

School officials said young Williams collided head on with a Falls City player but kept on playing for a time. Then he complained of a headache and in a short time he collapsed. Both players were wearing helmets and other protective equipment.

6 Umpires Selected For Series

New York (AP)—Commissioner Ford Frick announced Thursday the six World Series umpires and disclosed that all of them will shift positions for each game.

There will be no so-called alternates who only work the foul lines. The umpire who starts the first game on the foul line may be working the plate by the fifth or sixth game.

Frank Secory of the National League will be behind the plate for the opener to be played in the home park of the National League pennant winner Wednesday, Oct. 7 unless there is a tie playoff. The positions of the five additional umpires will be decided by Frick after a meeting with the crew.

Pesky Fired From Bosox

Boston (AP)—The Boston Red Sox will announce Manager fired and veteran coach Billy Herman hired as his replacement at a press conference called for Friday morning.

A source close to the club disclosed Thursday that Herman, one of the great second basemen in National League history, has been given a two-year contract. The salary will not be disclosed.

It is also understood Pesky will be offered a job in the organization in the development of young players. Whether he will accept the position or shop around for a position in another system is not known.

Pesky, longtime Boston infielder and veteran of the last Sox pennant winner in 1946, has been skipper two years under General Manager Mike Higgins. Last year the club finished tied for seventh and this time is buried even deeper in the second division.

Herman has been third base coach for the Sox since he came here with Billy Jurges, in 1960. He last had a major league managerial shot in 1947 with the Pittsburgh Pirates and the club was deadlocked for seventh.

Herman is a career baseball man who broke into the majors as a player in 1931 with the Chicago Cubs when he batted well over .300.

Higgins has great respect for Herman's baseball knowledge and they are longtime friends.

Indications are there will be sweeping changes in the coaching staff with Bob Turley definitely out as pitching overseer. Rumor has it that a full-scale effort will be made to re-acquire Sal Maglie for the post.

Golf Pros Find Fresno Inviting

Fresno, Calif. (AP)—Al Balding and Jack McGowan took full advantage of calm morning weather and smooth untrampled greens Thursday to share a two-stroke lead, tied at five-under-par 67s, in the first round of the $35,000 Fresno Open Golf Tournament.

A stiff breeze came up and heavy trampling made the 7,181-yard San Joaquin Country Club course considerably tougher from noon on.

Giles Tosses Coin To Decide Pairings

. . . OF POSSIBLE PLAYOFF

Cincinnati (AP)—National League President Warren Giles tossed a 1962 half-dollar in the air Thursday and started a complicated deal for the pairing of teams for possible two, three or four-team playoffs to decide the loop's 1964 champion.

The St. Louis Cardinals would seem to be in the driver's seat but the Cincinnati Reds, Philadelphia Phils and San Francisco Giants still are possibilities although the chances of the Phils and Giants rapidly are fading.

The coin used to start the drawing was the same one used in determining a playoff schedule for the Giants and the Los Angeles Dodgers two years ago — 1962.

If anyone got a break out of the subsequent drawing it must have been the Phils, who were represented by general manager John Quinn.

President and general manager William O. DeWitt represented the Reds. Giles did the drawing for the Cardinals and the three of them took turns as being a neutral representative for the Giants.

In the event of a two-team playoff, the first game will be played Monday in the city which won the draw. The next two, if both were necessary, would be played in the other city.

Here are those possibilities:

If Cincinnati and St. Louis tie, the first game will be played in Cincinnati.

If St. Louis and Philadelphia tie, the first game will be played in Philadelphia.

The mathematical experts in league headquarters figured out the Reds and the Phils cannot tie.

In the event of a three-team tie there will be a round robin playoff until two teams have lost two games.

There are three possibilities. One would involve St. Louis, Philadelphia and San Francisco. In that event, the opening round would have Philadelphia at St. Louis, St. Louis at San Francisco and San Francisco at Philadelphia.

If no team has been eliminated by that time, lots will be drawn to determine the teams by number and the same schedule will be resumed. If one has been eliminated, lots will be drawn to determine the site of the final playoff between the two remaining teams.

That will apply in any three-team playoff.

If the three-team playoff should involve St. Louis, Philadelphia and Cincinnati, the first round will have Cincinnati at Philadelphia, St. Louis at Cincinnati and Philadelphia at St. Louis.

If it would involve St. Louis, San Francisco and Cincinnati, the first round would have Cincinnati at San Francisco, St. Louis at Cincinnati and San Francisco at St. Louis.

Then there is the remote possibility of the four-team playoff.

In that event San Francisco will open at Cincinnati with the remaining two games, if both are necessary, at San Francisco. St. Louis will open at Philadelphia under the same arrangement.

The two winners then would meet with a drawing to be made later as to which would open at home.

ISU Subs Get Big Assignment

Ames (AP) — Coach Clay Stapleton plans to break up his all-veteran Iowa State lineup when the Cyclones meet rugged Nebraska here Saturday.

Stapleton indicated following Thursday's practice that sophomore George Maurer and unlettered junior Ken Pigott will open at end. They replace lettermen Denny Alitz and Ernie Kun.

The Cyclones worked about 70 minutes on defense, hoping to stop the Cornhuskers, who have averaged 422 yards total offense per game, third best in the nation.

Sophomore quarterback Tim Van Galder appeared in uniform for the first time Thursday since he suffered a fractured collarbone Sept. 7. Van Galder, considered the top passer among the five ISU quarterbacks, took part in a no contact drill.

White Trio Is Arrested In Bombings

Jackson, Miss. (UPI) — Three white men and an arsenal of high-powered rifles and other weapons were seized Thursday in connection with the bombing of two Negro homes in the racially-tense McComb, Miss., area.

Authorities charged the three men — one a Ku Klux Klansman — with bombing the homes under a state law that carries a maximum penalty of death. They were rushed to Jackson for further questioning.

There were reliable reports that other persons were being questioned in McComb, and further arrests might come shortly.

FBI, Patrol, Sheriff

Paul Dewey Wilson, 25, who moved from McComb to Jayess, Miss., Wednesday; Ernest Frederick Zeech, 25, and Jimmy Prinston Wilson, 38, both of McComb, were picked up by FBI agents working with the highway patrol and Pike County Sheriff R. R. Warren.

Wilson, a railroad worker and member of the Klan and the Americans for the Preservation of the White Race, was arrested first after federal and state agents saw him moving guns and ammunition out of his McComb home.

Sheriff Warren said Wilson, who was charged in two bombings, implicated the other two men.

The cases against the three will be presented to a grand jury which begins a regular term at Magnolia, Miss., near McComb, Monday. Bond is not permitted in capital cases.

Minister's House

Wilson was accused of throwing three sticks of dynamite at the home of the Rev. James Baker Sr. in rural Pike County, near McComb, Sept. 9.

All three men were charged in the bombing of the home of Mrs. Alyene Quin in McComb Sept. 20.

No one was injured in either blast although people were in both dwellings when the explosions occurred.

'Feeders On Hate'

The announcement of the arrests was made jointly by Acting Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach in Washington and Gov. Paul B. Johnson, who earlier in the day had assured McComb residents that "people who feed on hate and intimidation shall not destroy McComb."

House Demands Freedom

Washington (UPI) — An angry, shouting House Thursday demanded to be set free for the year.

"Adjourn! Adjourn!" roared Democrats and Republicans alike. Almost to a man, they whooped, jeered and hooted against Democratic leadership plans to complete action on major administration programs after the November elections.

Democratic leader Carl Albert told newsmen he would propose a recess after a similar plan evoked almost solid, noisy opposition from tired members.

But in a rapidly changing situation, it appeared unlikely that the leadership could win enough support to recess for the elections. Sources indicated that leaders were considering adjournment by this weekend.

The sources said plans call for House action on the Social Security increase bill, but without its proposal for a tax-paid health care program for the aged. The health care measure, along with the Appalachia aid bill, would be put on the priority list for January.

President Johnson has insisted on congressional action of both "must" measures.

House members zipped through a package of routine actions that helped clear the way for a windup that still looked possible by Saturday night.

In a situation where a single objection could have blocked action for an additional 24 hours, the House agreed to take up immediately on its completion Friday a compromise between House and Senate foreign aid authorization bills, to go to conference with the Senate on a final catch-all supplemental money bill, and to take up the resulting compromise in the House Friday.

The House showed it meant business in its demands for freedom by rebelling against its leadership.

It slapped down a move to extend through Oct. 10 emergency authority for continued spending by the Peace Corps and foreign aid agencies. A regular appropriation bill still is in the congressional mill.

The roll call vote was 158 to 193.

Conferees Kill Rider To Aid Bill

Washington (AP) — Congress moved closer to final action on a $3.25 billion foreign aid program Thursday night when Senate and House conferees killed a legislative reapportionment rider over which the Senate battled for several weeks.

The conferees approved a compromise authorization measure — stripped of all reference to the hot controversy over Supreme Court-ordered reapportionment of state legislatures.

Several hours earlier the Senate passed the $3.25 billion foreign aid money bill for which the authorization provides legislative authority.

Refuse

House conferees refused to accept the mild "sense of Congress" Senate rider which would not be binding on the courts. It was designed to allow district courts, in their discretion, to permit legislatures up to six months in which to reapportion and permit the next elections of members of state legislatures to be conducted on the basis of state laws in effect Sept. 20.

While the compromise bill authorizes foreign aid ceilings of a total of $3,506,972,400 this fiscal year, the appropriations measure passed by the Senate earlier in the day sets the actual spending limitation at $3,250,000,000 plus $163.8 million of reappropriations of unexpended balances from previous years.

The conferees met for nearly three hours Thursday morning and seven hours Thursday afternoon before reaching an agreement.

Sharp Change

The compromise bill includes a sharp modification of amendment which would have boosted interest rates on economic development loans abroad to a minimum of 2½% on non-revenue producing projects and 3.8% on commercial projects.

Carthaginian Fort Found In Sardinia

Cagliari, Sardinia (AP) — Archeologists announced Thursday a historic discovery—the first Carthaginian fortress found in Italy since the destruction of the Carthaginian Empire more than 2,000 years ago.

A statue, coins, earthenware and bronze inscriptions were found within the perimeter of the ruins.

Prof. Ferruccio Barreca said it was the only Carthaginian fortress known to have been found in this country after the ancient Romans destroyed the great maritime empire in the 4th Century B.C.

Unemployed Married Men On Rise

Washington (UPI)—An unexplained increase in unemployment among married men boosted the nation's jobless rate to 5.2% during September, the Labor Department reported Thursday.

But Harold Goldstein, of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the change was not statistically significant. "It is something we will have to watch," he said, "but I wouldn't send up danger signals at this point."

Over-all, both employment and unemployment declined at roughly seasonal rates in September. The start of the school year brought the usual large reduction in the teen-age labor force.

But the jobless rate for adult men edged up from 3.7% to 3.9%. The rate for married men climbed from 2.6% to 2.9%.

Goldstein said the figures might represent only normal fluctuations in the figures. He said he could not account for the change.

At 3.3 million, the unemployed total was 350,000 less than in August and at the lowest September level since 1959.

POWER REVIEW BOARD FACES BUSY OCTOBER

A busy October is shaping up for the Nebraska Power Review Board.

In addition to regular meetings tentatively set for Oct. 7, 14, 21 and 28, the board or hearing examiner Delbert Dirrim will conduct a number of hearings.

Resuming Friday will be the hearing on which agency will serve a new Phillips Petroleum Co. fertilizer plant near Beatrice. The Consumers and Norris Public Power Districts, the city of Beatrice and the Eastern Division of the Loup Power District each seeks the business.

On Oct. 7 and 8 the board will hear a case involving the city of Auburn and the Eastern Nebraska Public Power District, both of whom desire to supply wholesale electricity to the city of Peru.

Peru residents voted last June to discontinue the town's generation facilities and buy wholesale electricity from an outside source.

On Oct. 9 Dirrim will hold a hearing at Alliance on a dispute between the Alliance Municipal Electric Department and the Panhandle Rural Public Power District over which will serve an irrigation customer.

Sometime during the month the review board will meet with the Legislative Council Power Study Committee.

A power review board get-together in October with the state's rural power districts, CPPD and the Nebraska Public Power System also is possible.

Navy Survey: Ships Threatened In Tonkin Gulf

Washington (AP)—A Navy survey team has returned from the scene of the latest Gulf of Tonkin incident with a conclusion that two high-speed craft threatened patrolling U.S. destroyers, it was learned Thursday.

Original reports after the incident on Sept. 18 spoke of varying numbers of hostile ships, presumably Communist North Vietnamese PT boats, and a statement by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara mentioned four unidentified vessels as menacing the destroyers.

The team, made up of both Naval officers and civilians, reportedly came up with no hard evidence indicating that any of the destroyer guns hit the approaching craft, although sources said radar did pick up signs of shell flashes in the water around the targets.

This information became available as the Defense Department identified the two U.S. destroyers involved in the incident, which occurred at night in the same general waters where Communist PT boats attacked two other U.S. destroyers in early August.

Edwards, Morton

The warships in the Sept. 18 shooting fray were the Richard S. Edwards and the Morton, modern five-year-old craft displacing 2,850 tons each and armed with both 5-inch and 3-inch guns. Skipper of the Morton is Cmdr. John C. McGill of Forest Hills, N.Y. Captain of the Edwards is Cmdr. Jake Evans of Cody, Wyo.

The Pentagon, which had refused for nearly two weeks to name the U.S. ships, did so only after a Navy crewman on the Edwards wrote a letter home saying he had been in the latest Tonkin Gulf incident.

Neil Shively, reporter for the Dubuque, Iowa, Telegraph-Herald, called the letter to the Defense Department's attention and asked for confirmation.

Shively quoted James J. Kress of Dubuque, a fireman aboard the Edwards, as saying: "We picked up about seven contacts on the radar screen. The Edwards blew two of them out of the water for certain and shot up another one. I don't know if the Morton destroyed any or not."

Kress added that one of the PT boats came to within 2,000 yards and "like to got us" before it was blown up.

The Pentagon said it stood on earlier official statements "but the shapes on the radars of the two destroyers disappeared from the radarscope after being fired upon, subsequent to warning shots."

No criticism has been made officially concerning the handling of the destroyers. It was reported that the survey team also had nothing critical to say about the destroyer commanders.

H. C. Fulkerson, Omaha Trucking Executive, Dies

Omaha (AP)—Omaha trucking executive Henry C. Fulkerson, 52, died Wednesday of a heart attack.

With William Lipsman, he formed the Lipsman-Fulkerson Company in 1945 for refrigerated transportation from Omaha to California, and became president of the firm. The company was sold in 1961 to the Little Audrey Transportation Company of Fremont.

Since then he had been president of Swiftlines, Inc., and of Truck Wash, Inc., two Omaha-based trucking companies.

Survivors include his wife and two sons.

Omaha Man Sues For Ring, Bonds

An Omaha man, Z. H. Skriver, 67, filed suit in Lancaster District Court Thursday against Helen Elias of 2407 Garfield, charging that the woman took government bonds worth $58,000 and a $6,000 diamond ring from him.

The suit alleges that the woman stole the key to Skriver's Omaha safety deposit box and took the government bonds, later converting them to cash. The key was taken in late August, he alleged.

The suit also charges that the woman took the ring belonging to Skriver from his apartment room at 2407 Garfield.

The suit asks recovery of $64,000.

JAMES H. DAILEY

Cite Former Lincoln Man For Service

Scott AFB, Ill.—A top civil service employee here reached a milestone in his career this week when he completed his fortieth year of federal service.

James H. Dailey, chief of the publishing division, at the Military Air Transport Service (MATS) headquarters here, was recognized for his long service by award of a 40-year Certificate of Service and a gold lapel pin set with a ruby.

Dailey began his federal service in 1924 as a part-time postal employee in Lincoln, Neb.

The awards were presented by Gen. Howell M. Estes Jr., Commander of MATS, at a ceremony in his office which was attended by Dailey's wife and their son, Air Force Capt. William R. Dailey.

"Working nearly full-time at night," Dailey said, "I attended the University of Nebraska and in 1931 received a reserve commission as a second lieutenant in the Infantry through ROTC."

He continued with the Post Office in Lincoln until called up for military service in 1942. His first assignment was with the Army Air Corps Ferry Command at Presque Isle, Me. This assignment began what turned out to be more than 20 years association with military air transport.

He remained in uniform until 1952; then reverted to civilian status to accept the position he now holds

Dailey, now 56, does not expect to retire for at least two years.

"Of course we've talked about retirement, but we've made no definite plans," he said.

The Daileys live at 105 Columbus Drive, Belleville, Ill. Mrs. Dailey is the former Helen Rowland of Broadwater, Neb.

Dailey's mother, Mrs. James P. Dailey, lives at 1505 E, Lindoln.

Pershing Comes Through With First Operating Profit

Lincoln's Pershing Municipal Auditorium showed an operating profit of $8,131 for the fiscal year ended Aug. 31 — the first in its seven-year history.

Auditorium Manager Ike Hoig told the Auditorium Advisory Board that operating receipts were $169,006 against expenses of $160,875.

Last year, the auditorium reported a $21,321 operating loss with receipts of $140,532 and expenses of $161,853.

"This was a very gratifying year," Hoig said. "The whole staff worked hard to make it this year."

The board commended Hoig and the staff "on your fine 1963-64 operation."

Since the auditorium opened in late 1957, its yearly operation losses have been subsidized from the $50,000 building fund surplus or from general tax funds by the city.

To the board's suggestion that 1964-65 could also be a black-ink year, Hoig said bookings are increasing, but so are operating costs.

Hoig also noted that the Auditorium's downtown location at 15th and M has been the major factor in securing convention bookings.

Hoig questioned whether the auditorium would have been able to do the business it does at a location other than downtown.

Indonesians To Buy More Soviet Arms

Associated Press Writer

Moscow (AP)—The Soviet Union agreed Thursday to let Indonesia buy more Russian weapons to support President Sukarno's crush-Malaysia policy.

The Soviets made the pledge in a joint communique following Sukarno's 46-hour visit here. Sukarno flew to Geneva Thursday, leaving behind his defense minister, Gen. Abdul Harris Nasution, to work out details.

The communique, carried in full by the official news agency Tass, did not specify the weapons involved.

The communique left no doubt, however, that the Soviet Union supports Sukarno's determination to crush neighboring Malaysia, a federation of former British-controlled territories.

Mrs. Grayce Hahn To Marry Lt. Gov. Burney

Mrs. Grayce E. Hahn of Polk confirmed Thursday that she and Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney, Republican candidate for governor, will be married in January.

The smiling and gracious 56-year-old widow told reporters at a Statehouse press conference that she and Burney, long-time friends, originally had planned not to make any announcement of their plans until December or January.

Rumors of their impending marriage began circulating widely this week, however, and they decided a formal announcement should be made to clarify the reports.

The wedding will be held at the Polk Methodist Church. Asked if a specific date had been selected, Mrs. Hahn noted the lieutenant governor's birthday is January 7, and added she thought that might be a good date.

A check by reporters with the calendar revealed that date is also the day of the inauguration of the Nebraska governor for the 1965-67 term.

Queried for her opinion of Burney's chances of winning the governorship, she enthusiastically replied, "He's going to win. I'm sure."

Long-active in the Republican party, Mrs. Hahn has served as secretary of the GOP State Central Committee, as vice chairman of the Polk County GOP Committee, and is currently secretary of the county organization, and a precinct chairwoman.

Listed in Who's Who of American Women, Mrs. Hahn has been active in 4-H work, an officer of the Polk Methodist Church, and originated the Polk County Historical Society. She served as a member of the Nebraska State Home of Beatrice Advisory Board under Gov. Victor Anderson administration, and has been active in the Nebraska Press Women organization.

She is a recipient of the Ak-Sar-Ben Good Neighbor Award, and the Freedoms Foundation award in 1955.

Mrs. Hahn was accompanied by her daughter, Natalie, at the press conference. A 19-year-old sophomore at the University of Nebraska, Natalie said she was "real excited" about the impending marriage. Mrs. Hahn has another daughter, Mrs. Marilyn Pierpont, 28, of Grand Island.

Mrs. Hahn's husband, Lloyd, a prominent Polk County farmer, died March 15, 1963. Lt. Gov. Burney's wife died Nov. 1, 1962.

People Around Polk Not Really Surprised

By JOHN LEE
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Polk—There appeared to be little surprise around Mrs. Grayce Hahn's hometown Thursday about the announcement of her engagement to Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney.

What surprise there was had come a couple days earlier, so the engagement was pretty generally known around Polk.

Mrs. Hahn had made the announcement herself—apparently "on the spur of the moment," according to a friend—at a Tuesday noon luncheon of the Polk County Republican Women's Club in Osceola.

The friend, who preferred to remain anonymous, said Mrs. Hahn passed a note to the chairman of the meeting saying that she wished to make an announcement.

When she received the floor, she "said here was a secret she wanted to tell," and then announced the engagement.

The Rev. Harold W. Jenson, pastor of the Polk Methodist Church of which Mrs. Hahn is a member, said he had known for some time that the local Republican worker planned to be married to the lieutenant governor, but no definite date had been set.

He said he had conferred with Mrs. Hahn about whom should make the announcement and whether it would help or hinder Burney's campaign for governor to reveal it before the electon. It was finally decided that Burney should make the announcement, the Rev. Mr. Jensen said.

The minister, who makes a point of welcoming strangers to his services, said Burney accompanied his fiancee to the service last Sunday, but "I didn't recognize Burney," whom he met for the first time following the service.

"I don't see any special visitors today," the pastor declared from the pulpit.

He admitted he'd make a point of recognizing the candidate next time.

Asked whether he expected to handle the wedding ceremony, the Rev. Mr. Jensen said, "I think I'll get it, but I don't know yet when."

Reductions Given Farm Equipment Dealers Hit

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff said Thursday it is "completely unfair" for farm implement dealers to get beneficial inventory reductions while the assessor's office makes farmers go by the book in declaring implements for taxation.

His comments came after Harry Frost, manager of the Oliver Corporation's Omaha branch, said the Douglas County Assessor's office permits his firm and other farm implement dealers, to reduce their Jan. 1 inventory value by 27%.

The testimony came during the next to last day of a nine-day schedule of public hearings by Carpenter's legislative council taxation subcommittee which is studying the procedures used by big businesses in filing their tax reports.

Spokesmen for 10 Omaha-based businesses appeared befor Carpenter Thursday.

R. A. Skochdopole, Omaha, an attorney for McKesson & Robbins Drug and Chemical branches said there is an approved table of depreciation in Douglas County. He said the assessor's office permits businesses to write down to 20% the original cost of furniture and machinery during a 10-year period.

Skochdopole said federally-approved depreciation schedules are more generous than that.

Earlier, Carpenter asked Marvin Schmid, secretary of the Snow Company in Omaha, to explain a wide variance between the firm's federal and state declarations.

The Snow Company and the Snow Corporation manufacture and distribute farm implements.

According to Carpenter, the firm reported approximately $459,000 to the federal government in accounts receivable and notes as of Aug. 31, 1963, the close of the fiscal year. Carpenter said only $6,295 was reported to the Douglas County assessor as accounts receivable on Jan. 1, 1964.

Schmid said the firm's business is seasonal and that most of the bills owed the company during summer and fall are "worked down" by Jan. 1.

Over $5 Million Paid In Industrial Accidents

Compensation, medical and hospital bills paid by employers and insurance carriers during the July 1, 1963 to June 30, 1964, fiscal year as a result of industrial accidents totaled $5,187,953, the 22nd annual report of the Nebraska workmen's Compensation Court said.

The total was approximately $598,319 less than during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1963.

There were 38,171 industrial accidents reported to the compensation court during the year—3,170 fewer than during the previous fiscal year.

Fatal accidents numbered 77, or 13 less than the year before.

Thirty-one of the fatalities were on-the-road industrial accidents caused by automobiles, trucks, and tractors.

Forty-six fatal accidents occurred in other industry, mostly in plants.

In the previous year there were 23 road fatalities and 67 in other industry.

The court said, "it is significant to note that fatal on-the-road industrial accidents have increased, corresponding with accidental deaths suffered by the general public, while other industrial accidents have decreased."

Employes contracting occupational diseases of various kinds totaled 1,167. Of the total, 225 were females.

The number of occupational disease cases was 95 below the previous year.

The court said new docketed cases during the fiscal year totaled 920. These are cases requiring consideration by at least one of the judges.

There were 99 applications for rehearing before the compensation court "en banc." These are heard in the county where the accident happened.

State's Hospital Standards Obsolete, Weak—Pangborn

State Hospital Division Director Verne A. Pangborn says the state's hospital standards are "completely obsolete, too weak" and must be revised to keep pace with advances in medicine.

"Time has elapsed to such a point that the regulations just aren't pertinent to our present day problems," Pangborn said in an interview. "A complete review and revision of the state standards is needed."

The present regulations were established in 1958.

Pangborn said it is hoped the Department of Health will authorize a committee to work on the revisions next year.

A special committee presently is working on revisions in the state's standards regarding homes for the aged and infirm and is scheduled to complete its work by the middle of next year.

Pangborn said any revision in hospital standards would be in line with his division's effort to keep Nebraska's hospitals up to date.

"A few years ago our prime purpose was to replace the old fire traps with new hospital facilities," he said. "Now that we have th facilities, it's our job to keep them modern."

To keep them modern, he said, "major upgrading in the hospitals' technical areas should be made every 10 years. The first step, however, is the strengthening of the state's construction standards."

There are 132 hospitals in Nebraska, not counting federal facilities, and Pangborn claims this is more than enough to serve the state.

"In fact, I envision some of our hospitals being turned into nursing homes in the next decade," he said, "because development of roads will allow facilities to serve much wider areas."

He said the quality of Nebraska's hospitals, for the most part, is high.

"There still are a few hospitals which should be replaced," Pangborn said, "but it is the opinion of most national evaluation groups that the people of Nebraska get good medical care."

Stock Market's Prices Decline In Late Selling

New York (AP) —The stock market Thursday put on another uncertain performance. Late selling brought a loss. Trading lagged.

It was the third straight session in which more stocks declined than advanced.

Steels moved higher in early trading because of hints of a price boost, but they erased their gains, some taking losses.

Wall Street seemed discouraged about prospects for seeing an end to the General Motors strike this week. Opinion was that it would drag on at least to early next week.

A lower price trend prevailed among tobaccos, building materials, electronics, aerospace stocks, electrical equipments and nonferrous metals.

Autos, airlines, chemicals and many other groups were thoroughly mixed.

The Dow Jones industrial average declined 3.37 to 872.00.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 1.0 to 325.4 with industrials down 1.7, rails unchanged and utilities down .5.

Of 1,350 issues traded, 484 rose and 571 fell. New highs for the year totaled 56 and new lows 15.

Volume was 4.6 million shares compared with 4.7 million Wednesday.

Eight of the 15 most active stocks were losers, six were gainers, with GM unchanged.

The trend was irregularly lower on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.61 million shares compared with 1.71 million Wednesday.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds drifted irregularly.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Reader Asks About Saving For Son's Future Education

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

A reader of this column in Columbus, Ohio, in a letter of inquiry, tries to seduce me into a 10-year forecast.

He writes: "I plan to set aside several thousand dollars this year for an educational fund for my eight-year old son. This investment and its reinvested dividends or interest would therefore have 10 years for accumulation.

Rukeyser

"If this were your problem, how would you invest the money?"

It's not quite a fair question, as the youngest of my four sons has recently received his undergraduate degree. Furthermore, I have had a ringside seat at the arena of finance and business for four and a half decades, and by the process of osmosis I have picked up more investment know-how than the average beginner.

If I were the reader, I would not folow the old-fashioned course of building the tuition fund solely in fixed dollar commitments, such as insurance and savings deposits. For I have observed what inflation has already done to the cost of being learned. In World War I, tuition was $5 a point, a point being one hour of classroom work per week per semester. The cost of earning a degree has already increased more than tenfold.

Instead of waiting until the reader has time to educate himself in investments with an advanced degree at the Harvard School of Business Administration, it would be sensible to utilize the expert knowledge of pros and to acquire a well managed mutual fund with a good record of growth potentials. Then he will not only have compound interest going for him, but also the expectation of national economic growth. By mail, I am sending the reader a selected list of "no load" mutual funds.

It's not quite clear why the reader arbitrarily thinks he can dispose of this matter by making a single investment. He might well allocate out of current income in future years part of his receipts for capital account, including reserves for his offspring.

Furthermore, the reader's assumption that he will liquidate the fund in 10 years is faulty. If the youngster at 18 starts college, the father 10 years hence need only cash in a quarter of the educational fund in order to finance the first year on the campus.

Unless enough cash is put up at the beginning to assure enough when the boy is ready to matriculate, it would be sensible to insure the objectives through linking life insurance with the investment program. Some mutual funds as a package deal offer group term life insurance. Where this is not available, it is possible on the outside to acquire directly from an insurance company.

Q. A reader in Ft. Smith, Arkansas, writes that he is in a quandary concerning his life insurance. He wants to know about cash reserves for an emergency and particularly asks whether he should scrap his existing insurance as recommended by a security salesman who wants him to replace policies with a new insurance contract sponsored by his group and also buy mutual funds.

A. Undoubtedly, the proposed switch would be beneficial to the peddler of intangibles (insurance and shares) as the transaction would yield him a fat commission. However, there is an advantage to the insured in sticking to old contracts. Twisting old policies into new causes economic waste in the form of costs. The only time to alter established contracts in sound companies is when your own insurable needs change, such as when dependents become self supporting or when you want to convert protection insurance into a self pension for retirement.

The reader asks whether he is spending too much for insurance. If he could tell me when he expects to die, I could better weigh whether his insurance coverage is excessive. Instead of listening to random salesmen, the reader should consult a good Certified Life Underwriter in his community. If he doesn't know any, I am sure his local banker can put him in touch with one, as can the local Associaton of Life Underwriters.

Q. A young professional man in New York City has purchased a $50,000 policy on a "minimum deposit basis." His agent is encouraging him to go further into debt to acquire mutual finds.

A. Don't be oversophisticated. Instead of trying to beat taxes, make sure you are building an estate. Some of these schemes based on loopholes can be vitiated by future Congressional action. Also don't go out on a limb, but give yourself some flexibility for dips in income or other emergencies such as illness or accident.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Burney Attacks Governor's Style Of Campaigning

Minden (UPI) — Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney, Republican candidate for governor, attacked Governor Morrison's "bi-partisan approach to campaigning."

Addressing a fund-raising dinner, Burney criticized the governor for his reluctance to "display his colors."

Burney said, "The governor is pledged to the Johnson-Humphrey ticket as its honorary campaign manager. The only bi-partisan touch is his hope of being eletced by the votes of complacent Republicans."

He added: "The slogan 'Morrison for Nebraska' rings hollow in the light of the governor's refusal to lend the weight of his office to the livestock industry's protest against meat imports. He hewed straight to the line and steadfastly refused his support, either out of ignorance of the problems of the livestock industry, or because of the dictate of the Johnson administration. In any event, he did not represent Nebraska."

Taylor Calls Internal Crisis Serious Factor In Viet Nam

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor said Thursday South Viet Nam's governmental crisis is a serious factor in the war, but the Communist Viet Cong has never been so far from a military victory.

"Despite their desperate efforts, despite long years of war and violence and heavy support given to them by their masters in Peking and Hanoi, today they are militarily farther from success than ever and their men must know it," Taylor told a news conference.

Taylor discounted the fact that the Viet Cong, which once staged attacks with single platoons or companies, are now using full battalions in some engagements. A Red battalion usually numbers 300 to 400 men.

The ambassador said the tempo has remained about the same since he took up his duties July 7 as successor to Henry Cabot Lodge.

There has been a great strengthening of government forces, he said, and, while the Viet Cong are stronger too, their increase cannot match the government upswing.

The soldier-diplomat, former chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, said, however, the counterinsurgency program developed with U.S. aid cannot be used effectively unless the projected switch from military to civilian rule develops a strong and popular government.

If it does, he said, the military problem may take care of itself.

"The rule of the high national council seems so vital to us all," he said. "I know of no group more important to the country today."

Taylor called outright lies rumors among Vietnamese that U.S. Army Special Forces officers who trained mountain tribesmen for irregular warfare against Communist guerrillas were behind the recent abortive revolt of 2,000 of the tribesmen in the Ban Me Thuot area of the central highlands.

An 18-hour-old black rhinoceros, only the eighth ever born in captivity in the United States, gets a nuzzle from proud mother Opal in the Cincinnati Zoo. Zoo officials tag the love potion idea a myth.

House Approves Proposed Funds To Modernize 4 School Subjects

Washington (UPI) — The House Thursday approved a proposal to use federal funds to modernize the teaching of history, geography, civics and English in U.S. schools.

Members spurned Republican charges that the plan would let federal officials dictate what should be taught in local schools and passed compromise legislation that would:

—Extend the 14-year-old "impacted areas" school aid program for one year beyond the present June 30, 9165, expiration.

NDEA Continuation

—Continue the 1958 National Defense Education Act (NDEA) for three years past its present June 30, 1965, cutoff and expand its assistance to elementary, secondary and college-level education.

The House passed the bill 320-20 after rejecting a GOP proposal to strike out most of the new aid for the so-called "humanities" courses. The Republican motion was voted down, 236-107.

Final approval of the bill by the Senate was expected.

$390 Million

There was no controversy over impacted areas, which pumps $390 million a year into schools which claim to be overcrowded by the children of federal workers and servicemen living in the area. This program benefits the districts of more than 300 House members and always has commanded unbeatable support.

But NDEA, which was enacted in 1958 to step up the pace of education in the fields of science, mathematics and foreign languages, as well as assist other facets of U.S. education, ran into the first widespread GOP opposition since going on the books.

The Republicans, emphasizing that they still were firmly committed to the original idea of NDEA, said Democrats were trying to turn it into a program that could be given a political slant. They said the original subjects benefited by the program were not susceptible to manipulation, but that history and civics were wide open to this kind of abuse.

Ak-Sar-Ben Tax Status To Be Told By Dec. 1

Omaha (AP)—State tax commissioner Forrest A. Johnson said Thursday he will decide by Dec. 1 whether he will place Ak-Sar-Ben's property on the tax rolls.

That is the date Johnson will resign as tax commissioner to become executive director of the Nebraska Tax Research Council.

Johnson made his announcement after a 1½ hour hearing in which Ak-Sar-Ben once again defended its claim that under the state law its property should remain tax exempt.

In late summer County Assessor Joe C. Stolinski recommended that Ak-Sar-Ben's real estate be taxed, but his ruling was reversed by the County Board. Johnson has the power to overturn the County Board's decision.

Yale C. Holland, Ak-Sar-Ben attorney, argued that the civic organization was an agricultural society.

"A complication seems to be that some of its activities are more in the field of entertainment and relaxation," Holland said. "This business of a fair and agricultural society goes back a long time when there used to be all sorts horse races, to attract persons."

He said at all times Ak-Sar-Ben uses it facilities for purposes of an agricultural society, and rejected the argument that perhaps just part of the property should be taxed.

He also said there was no justification for overruling the County Board simply to get the matter into the courts.

Johnson said his ruling would be based on the law and not to obtain a court test.

No one appeared in opposition. Among the absent was state Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, who has said he will do whatever he can to take the matter before the state Supreme Court.

A memorial service and installation of officers will be held Sunday.

Claims On Estate Of Paul Sandblom At $5.5 Million

Corpus Christi, Tex. (AP) — Claims against the estate of bankrupt financier Paul Amos Sandblom had reached $5,521,112.81 by the deadline for filing Thursday.

A total of 119 persons or firms have filed claims against Sandlom, who declared voluntary bankruptcy last Jan. 7 and who faces state and federal charges involving securities transactions.

Sandblom goes on trial in San Antonio Monday, facing two three-count indictments charging him with violations of the Texas securities act and fraud.

Twelve of the 22 persons listed new claims Wednesday in the office of referee in bankruptcy James Easterling are Corpus Christi residents.

Previously, 87 claims for some $2.8 million had been filed.

Out-of-state creditors included:

Altha Mae Ward, Norman, Okla., $5,000; Leroy Eisbert, Oklahoma City, $20,000; Ed Keisbert, Oklahoma City, $20,000; Paul Owen Jr., Leewood, Kan., $30,000; Mr. and Mrs. John Kyser, Omaha, Neb., $35,000.

Barry To Omaha; Nixon To Lincoln

Republican Party leaders are planning a luncheon at the Omaha City Auditorium for GOP nominee Barry Goldwater on Oct. 14, it was disclosed Thursday.

It was also learned Thursday that the Nebraska visit of former vice president Richard Nixon will include a stop in Lincoln late in October.

Picture Brings Hundreds Of Offers To Adopt Indian Baby

New Orleans (AP) — Nobody wanted "Quince" Wednesday, but now dozens of people would like to adopt the 7-month-old Indian baby turned over to the Protestant Home for Babies by a mother who said she couldn't care for him.

Miss Sally Matlock, executive director of the home, told the New Orleans States-Item Wednesday that no one wanted to adopt the 18-pound infant.

She said the baby was offered to 25 couples, and all declined. She said one mother told her she would like the child, "but when he grows up my next-door neighbor wouldn't want him to date her daughter." Other couples gave similar explanations.

Then the Associated Press sent the story and a picture of Quince over the country, and the situation changed.

Miss Matlock said she was astounded at the reaction. She said the telephone at the home was swamped with calls inquiring about adopting Quince.

Calls came from many states, from New Jersey to California and from Florida to Indiana. The calls were from all kinds of folks, including doctors, ministers, professional people and plain working people.

Miss Matlock said she had received more than 120 calls by early Thursday. And, she said, it looks as if Quince will have a home soon.

She explained that adoptive parents must be Louisiana residents, under 40, and Protestants.

Indians Move To Rescue Survivors

New Delhi, India (AP)—Soldiers in amphibious vehicles reached devastated Macherla Thursday and began rescuing survivors of a dam disaster that may have killed at least 1,000 persons.

Fragmentary reports from the scene in southeastern India said the soldiers found most of the town still under several feet of water.

Thousands of persons had been clinging to trees and roof tops since before dawn Tuesday after a large irrigation reservoir collapsed and sent a 10-foot wave of water rushing over the sleeping town of 25,000.

In a first radio report from the stricken town a police official said the known death toll was 70.

But Irrigation Minister K. L. Rao said he received preliminary official reports that 200 persons drowned and also many telephone calls from people of nearby towns that at least 1,000 persons perished.

Meantime, 250 fishermen caught in a storm in the Bay of Bengal were reported to have swum ashore or to have been rescued. Word was awaited on the fate of several hundred other fishermen missing since a cyclone struck Monday.

Peasants March In India Capital Demanding Food

New Delhi, India (AP)—About 12,000 peasants demonstrated in New Delhi Thursday, demanding land for India's impoverished masses.

Shouting slogans and waving banners, the ragged villagers streamed through the main streets of the capital in a procession that stretched for nearly a mile.

Before parliament, they gathered for about two hours, chanting demands for land reform and listening to speeches by members of the Republican Party, a small opposition party that organized the demonstration.

There was no violence.

Aeronautics Unit Seeks Budget Cut

The State Department of Aeronautics has proposed a budget cut of $1.8 million for the 1965-67 biennium.

The department, which operates entirely with cash and federal funds, requested a budget of $2,829,000, compared with the appropriation of $4,716,629 for 1963-65.

The 1963 Legislature did not appropriate a fixed amount but gave permission to spend whatever income was realized from federal aid money and receipts from the aviation gas tax.

The department anticipates that during the upcoming biennium much less money will be needed because of less construction of airport runways across the state.

In its budget request, the department said there were a considerable number of backlog projects which were or will be completed this biennium.

It said several large projects also received special federal funds "over and above the normal $700,000," which is Nebraska's annual share of federal aid matching money.

The Capital Building Commission, in its budget request, proposed a reduction of $40,000.

It asked for a budget of $30,000.

Obbink Leaving Marshal's Post To Be FHA Head

Omaha (UPI) — Jack Obbink has announced he is resigning as U.S. marshal for the Nebraska district to accept a position as assistant director for Nebraska of the Federal Housing Administration.

His new office would be at Lincoln.

There have been reports that Clive Short, 52, Chadron, will succeed Obbink as U.S. marshal for Nebraska.
